SERVIAN CAPITAL IS BOMBARDED

AUSTRIAN GUNS HURL FIRE INTO BELGRADE

Bridge Over River Save is Blown Up as Cannons Roar in First Engagement of the War.

EUROPE WATCHES GERMANY AND RUSSIA

St. Petersburg, July 29.—A despatch from Belgrade says the Servian capital has been bombarded and the bridge over the Save blown up.

WATCH GERMANY AND RUSSIA.

All Europe Massing Armies in Stragetic Positions.

London, July 29.—Reports of the massing of armies in strategic positions came from all points of Europe today, but no actual clash of opposing forces was registered. Diplomats concentrated their attention on efforts to confine the war to Austria-Hungary and Servia the two nations immediately concerned in the quarrel, and the attitude of the German and Russian emperors was closely watched, owing to their new relations to the countries engaged.

Premier Asquith referred to the international situation in the house of commons, but all the information he was able to impart was contained in a few words. "The situation at this moment," he said, "is one of extreme gravity, and I can only usefully say that the British government is not relaxing its efforts to do everything in its power to circumscribe the area of conflict. The British government has received no information as to an alleged revolutionary outbreak in Russia."

The March of Troops.

Austria-Hungary and Servia resounded today with the march of troops towards positions of attack and defense, while military aviators on both sides flitted through the air along the frontiers in an effort to discover their opponents positions.

No idea of the plan of campaign could be obtained by the general public owing to the rigidity of the censorship in regard to military movements. It was known that the Austria-Hungarian government had requisitioned the entire train service and that private transportation in the dual monarchy had ceased. It was gleaned from dispatches from Servian points that the Bosnian frontier was looked upon as the most likely point of attack of the Austrian troops and thither the soldiers of King Peter were hurried in great numbers. The Montenegrin soldiery evidently preparing to support their brother serbs, also concentrated along the Bosnian frontier.

The stock exchanges everywhere in Europe were demoralized and where they were not closed they were almost at a standstill. David Lloyd George, British chancellor of the exchequer today made the financial tranquilizing statement that the Bank of England saw nothing in the present financial situation to make it necessary to call a meeting of bankers to deal with it.

Troop Movements Continue.

In the meantime dispatches from Vienna showed that the movement of the Austrian forces toward the Servian frontiers was proceeding steadily, but a strict censorship concerning the military movements prevented the exact destination of troops from reaching the outside world. All the Austrian and Hungarian railways were taken over

Varied Moves Today on War Chessboard

Berlin, July 29.—Emperor William today sent to Emperor Nicholas, of Russia, a telegram concerning the international crisis. The message crossed on its way to St. Petersburg a similar telegram from Nicholas to Emperor William.

London, July 29.—Partial mobilization of the Russian troops in the southern and southwestern districts was ordered by the Russian war office last night, according to dispatches received here.

Portland, Eng., July 29.—The British fleet sailed from here today for an unknown destination. No information could be obtained from naval officials as to the movements of the war vessels.

Paris, July 29.—The Temps says Russia was officially informed about half-past twelve this afternoon that Austria-Hungary would respect the territorial integrity of Servia and wishes even to abstain from occupying Belgrade, the Servian capital.

WILSON KEEPING IN CLOSE TOUCH

Indiana State Library

European War Situation Draws Keen Interest in Washington.

Washington, July 29.—President Wilson kept closely informed of the war situation today through reports from American diplomats abroad, but there was no change in the attitude of mere observation.

Secretary Redfield indicated to the white house today he had no fear that a war in Europe would have any serious effect on conditions in the United States. It was the belief of officials that although prices of food stuffs might go up in this country, general business conditions resulting from the demand for American products abroad would offset it.

Diplomatic dispatches from Vienna brought the first official news to the state department of Austria-Hungary's declaration of war against Servia. But, in making the announcement Secretary Bryan said that Ambassador Penfield had not yet transmitted to the department any formal announcement from the Austrian foreign office that a state of war exists between the two countries.

The international relief board of the American Red Cross today decided to announce that the society would receive and forward contributions for relief to the Austrian and Servian Red Cross society as designated by contributors. All Red Cross chapters in the United States are being notified.

HARRISON IS NOW SEGREGATION FOE

Chicago Mayor Admits His Change of Opinion on Vice Question.

Chicago, July 29.—"Segragation means protected vice and corruption of officials," Mayor Carter H. Harrison was reported today as declaring at his fishing camp in Michigan. "I have reached the conclusion," he said, "that my ideas on the vice question have been wrong. I have no hesitation now in subscribing to the general indictment of the segragation plan. Its worst aspect is the corrupting influence it exercises over the entire law enforcing arm of the government. Commercialized vice is a crime and the only remedy is repression. The policeman who takes graft from protected vice will soon be taking it from pickpockets and burglars.

"Chicago is through with the segregated vice idea. We can never entirely eliminate prostitution in any large city. But we can drive it under cover and we can make it unprofitable for those who would capitalize the weakness of others. Segregation is a farce. The city cannot go into partnership with such a business."

HAVE REACHED AN AGREEMENT

Carranza and Carbajal in Accord on Settlement in Mexico.

NEW STEP TOWARD PEACE IS TAKEN

Deal With Zapata's Forces Also Only Awaits Ratification.

Washington, July 29.—General Carranza and provisional President Carbajal have agreed on a basis for the arrangement of peace in Mexico, according to a message received here today by Jose Castellot, personal representative of Carbajal.

Mr. Castellot showed Secretary Bryan his latest advices from Mexico City, which stated that General Villa and Justice Allende, Carbajal's two delegates to Carranza have been instructed to carry out in detail the general basis of peace "already agreed upon." That was interpreted by Mr. Castellot to mean that through diplomatic channels and through Reginaldo Cepeda, advance delegate to the Carbajal government now with General Carranza, a definite understanding has been reached for a peaceful transfer of the government at Mexico City to the constitutionalists.

With respect to amnesty and guarantees, General Carranza, it is understood, will promise immunity to all except those directly responsible for the overthrow of Madero. Practically all these said to be guilty have fled Mexico and that exception will not be opposed by the Carbajal government.

It is expected that within a few days the Carbajal delegation will have worked out the details of an agreement. Diplomats here expect that one of the first questions will be on recognizing the protocols, signed at Niagara Falls between the United States and the Huerta government. Approval of these by the constitutionalists probably would mean recognition by the United States, Argentina, Brazil and Chile.

An agreement by which Zapata's forces are to co-operate with the constitutionalists in restoring peace throughout Mexico has been arranged by delegates and now only requires the signatures of Carranza and Zapata before being made public.

CRACK SWIMMERS IN COMPETITION

Twelve Events Feature the Opening Program at Indianapolis.

Indianapolis, Ind., July 29.—Twelve events were on the program for the first day of the three days' swimming meet, which opens here today under the auspices of the Central Amateur Athletic union. More than 125 of the best swimmers of the country have entered.

In accordance with the ruling of James E. Sullivan, president of the amateur athletic union barring women from participation in the meet events for women have been stricken from the program, but will be conducted as a special attraction at the close of each day. To avoid infringement of Mr. Sullivan's order a separate list of officials will conduct the event for the women, a number of whom have entered.

Included in the events today are: 50-yard wash, 100-yard dash, 440-yard dash, 150-yard back stroke, plunge for distance and fancy diving. A number of medals and trophies have been offered to the winners in the meet.

MR. WARBURG HAS DECIDED TO COME

New York Banker Will See Senate Committee on His Nomination.

Washington, July 29.—President Wilson today received a telegram from Paul M. Warburg, of New York, saying he had practically decided to come to Washington to confer with the senate banking committee on his nomination as a member of the federal reserve board.

Although the telegram didn't state in terms that Mr. Warburg would come, white house officials said they considered the question closed and that Mr. Warburg would appear in the near future. After the receipt of the telegram Mr. Warburg had a long distance telephone talk with Secretary Tumulty and said he had found his talk with Senator Hitchcock very satisfactory and that he saw no reason why he should not confer with the committee. No time has been set for Mr. Warburg to come to Washington. Chairman Owen also stated he received a telegram from Mr. Warburg in which the banker stated that he thought his appearance could be "agreeably arranged."

The president today had not decided whom to appoint to the vacancy caused by the withdrawal of the nomination of Thomas D. Jones, of Chicago.

IS URGED TO PUSH TRUST LAWS AHEAD

Hugh Chalmers Says Uncertainty is Greatest Trouble.

Washington, July 29.—President Wilson held another conference today on business conditions and the pending trust bills with a delegation of business men representing varied interests throughout the country.

A delegation of wholesalers presented a brief opposing the "exclusive agency" features of the Clayton bill and several sections of the trade commission bill. They told Mr. Wilson that they approved of the pending legislation in a general way and thought it necessary to prevent unfair competition, but feared come of its features would seriously interfere with business organizations operating on a small scale.

For more than half an hour the president and the business men had a detailed discussion. Mr. Wilson explained his view of the purposes of the legisla-

DOCTOR DID NOT REPORT ON DEATH

Relatives of Railroad Accident Victim Want an Investigation.

Relatives of the late Bert Kunselman, who died June 25 at St. Joseph's hospital in this city, after having been injured June 24 near Hoagland on the Grand Raapids & Indiana railroad, have communicated with authorities in Fort Wayne and with Attorney George Yaple, asking that an investigation be conducted to determine the exact cause of the man's death.

The case was not reported to Coroner E. H. Kruse and he stated Wednesday that the physician who attended the man would be punished, if possible, for failing to make a report on the case, as it was his second similar offense.

Dr. Kruse consulted with the railway officials and was told that all they knew about the affair was that Kunselman was injured while riding on a speeder which jumped the track, and died here the following day. The coroner will conduct a careful investigation of the circumstances.

FORT WAYNE CHILDREN ENJOYING OUTING AT CROOKED LAKE AS THEIR FIRST EXPERIENCE OF THE KIND.

Cleanly and neatly dressed, bubbling over with anticipation of an outing at Crooked lake, through the good offices of Mr. and Mrs. Guy Gilbert and Mr. and Mrs. Al Swanger, this group of Fort Wayne children was snapped as the party arrived in Mr. Gilbert's automobile at the Lake Shore depot. Visions of a stay at the lake made it difficult to keep the members of the party posed for a picture as they considered that the least important part of the proceeding. These youngsters could not have had the benefit of the outing but for the kindness of the four people most interested and they conducted their plans quietly and publicity was forced upon them rather than sought.

Quit Fort Wayne; Rush to Scenes of Conflict

Twelve foreigners, natives of Servia, Austria-Hungary and Greece visited the foreign exchange department at the First National bank Wednesday morning seeking information regarding shipping possibilities to their separate countries and instructing Harry Orr, in charge of the department to secure passage for them.

Mr. Orr states that during the past two weeks he has secured passage abroad for at least fifty natives of the three countries mentioned above, and that inquiry made by him leads to the belief that they are going back home because of the war situation. He thinks that since Austria-Hungary has declared war, the foreign population in Fort Wayne will be greatly decreased within a short time.

A portion of the Fort Wayne foreigners securing passage home left last Saturday, some the first of the week and others are to go next Saturday. Two men applied at the exchange department Tuesday and exchanged United States currency for 50,000 francs, representing $10,000 in our coinage. They said they were going to take the money back with them.

Most of those making inquiry prefer the Greek lines out of New York, according to Mr. Orr. They do so because these lines have a direct course, they do not have to change boats and do not have to go by rail as they would if they went to Hamburg or Havre. The Greek steamboat lines, however, do not have as many boats and some difficulty has been encountered because of the heavy shipping in the ports of the world.

MR. AND MRS. REHM ARE BOTH BETTER

Physician Says Auto Victims May Be Brought Home This Week.

So much improvement was noted in the condition of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel M. Rehm in the Sacred Heart hospital at Garrett Wednesday morning that Dr. Thompson, who is attending them, believes they can be brought to their home in this city the last of the week. He also stated that there is no doubt now about their complete recovery.

Both are still suffering extremely from the nervous shock of the automobile accident, in which their daughter, Amber Arvilla Rehm, and a near relative, Mrs. A. M. Blume, were killed by an interurban car near Avilla, and it is said that even now Mrs. Rehm cannot fully realize that their daughter is dead, though she has discussed the tragedy with relatives, nurses and the physician.

Mr. Rehm, however, fully realizes his great loss and his suffering from the shock of the accident is severe. He persists in talking of the tragedy and asking questions concerning the injuries sustained by his daughter that resulted in her death Monday night at the hospital.

Funeral of Daughter.

Funeral services for Amber Rehm will be held Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the Klaehn & Melching chapel. Rev. James Knipper, of the Fort Wayne Rescue Mission, officiating. Interment will be made at Lindenwood.

Services for Mrs. A. M. Blume will be held Thursday noon at 12 o'clock from the residence on the St. Joseph road and at 1:30 o'clock Thursday afternoon from the Methodist Episcopal church at Cedarville, Rev. C. Claude Travis officiating. Interment will be made at the Leo cemetery.

Many View Remains.

Scores of people have called at the undertaking establishment during the past two days to view the remains of Miss Rehm. The young lady had a host of friends and was a leader in the circles in which she moved. The shocking tragedy causing her death has brought sorrow to many homes in Fort Wayne where the young lady was a frequent guest.

Coroner Calls Witnesses.

After having been assured by County Attorney Edward G. Hoffman that his authority empowered him to take charge of the inquest into the death of Mrs. Blume, Coroner E. H. Kruse notified witnesses and others, including members of the train crew and officials of the Fort Wayne & Northwestern interurban that his examination would be conducted Thursday. Mrs. Blume was killed in Noble county but her body was removed to Allen county before an inquest into her death was held.

tion and afterward the leaders of the delegation said they were greatly encouraged by his attitude.

Hugh Chalmers, of Detroit, told the president he believed the greatest trouble with business was uncertainty, and he believed the trust bills should be passed as quickly as possible. Business had been bad for the last few months, he said, but he looked for great improvement as soon as the trust bills were out of the way and the interstate commerce commission gives its decision on the railroad rate case.

Plan Delayed Vacations.

With assurances from democratic leaders that congress might be expected to complete the tasks of this session during the last week in August, President Wilson and many senators and representatives today planned for delayed vacations.

Agreement of the senate republicans not to aim a filibuster against the trust bills added to hope for a speedy adjustment. The president's vacation plans contemplated a sojourn at his summer home in Cornish, N. H., after which he probably will take part in the congressional campaigns in Pennsylvania, Ohio and possibly other states.

Turn to White House.

Seeking to have President Wilson define his attitude in the differences between factions of New York democrats, fifteen members of the New York city delegation in congress headed by Representative Fitzgerald turned to the white house today.

Added interest was given to the conference by a telegram from Dudley Field Malone, collector of the port of New York, to Mr. Fitzgerald, saying that since his activities were expected to be taken up at the meeting he would like to be present. Mr. Malone, however, had not asked the president for an appointment.

The plan at the white house was to hold the conference behind closed doors and not to give out any statement afterward. Officials close to the president said that Mr. Wilson was anxious to meet the New York democrats in a friendly spirit.

Defines Unfair Competition.

Chairman Culbertson, of the state judiciary committee, introduced an amendment to the trade commission bill to make unfair competition unlawful, just as the present bill does, but defining unfair competition as every act which "tends" to create a contract, combination or conspiracy in restraint of trade, and also every act which "tends" to monopolization. He said his amendment was designed to make unlawful acts which "tend" toward the accomplishment of things which the Sherman law already makes unlawful, namely, restraint of trade and monopolies. Senator Cummins continued today to defend the bill in debate.

Will Hear Roosevelt.

The senate foreign relations committee today decided to inform Col. Roosevelt in response to his request for a hearing in opposition to the treaty to pay Colombia $25,000,000 for the partition of Panama that he would be heard whenever the committee determined to take up the convention. Senators said, however, that it was not probable that any further consideration of the treaty would be had at this session of congress.

On President Wilson's urgent request that Secretary Bryan's new peace treaties with twenty nations be ratified at the current congress the senate foreign relations committee today referred the conventions to a sub-committee with instructions to study them and report.

Senators practically had decided to postpone action until next session, but owing to the threatening situation in Europe, ratification may be hurried.

GO THROUGH DAY SAFELY

ures of the day, 3⅝ to 4⅝ under last night.

Reports of communications between the czar and the kaiser, foreshadowing possible peace had most to do with the reaction from yesterday's extraordinary advance of nearly ten cents a bushel.

Clerks and members of board of trade firms worked until daylight today, getting ready for the expected continuation of yesterday's upheaval of the wheat market, when prices went up nine cents a bushel for the September option on account of the European situation. War news was more eagerly awaited today than at any time since the Russo-Japanese conflict.

Heavy Margin Calls.

The heaviest margin calls in years reached brokers' customers today. Traders were asked to margin their deals up to twenty cents a bushel. Commission houses with many short trades on their books were apprehensive and took precaution to protect themselves.

Similar conditions existed in other grain centers. St. Louis, Kansas City, Minneapolis, Milwaukee and Duluth offices were busy all night, and almost up to opening hour of the grain exchanges today, preparing for another day of excitement.

Instead of advancing, as most traders expected, the wheat market today made a startling break right at the opening. First prices were down more than two cents a bushel. In another minute the market had dropped an additional two cents or more, then there was a sudden rebound of more than three cents, followed by another descent, but in this case not quite so violent.

Pits and Galleries Crowded.

The pits and galleries were crowded to their utmost capacity. The commotion among the traders, however, after trading began were decidedly less tumultuous than yesterday when news was received that war had been declared.

The directors of the Chicago board of trade held a special meeting this morning to discuss the advisability of closing the board because of the tense situation. They finally decided to let the board remain open for the time being.

NEW YORK MAKES RECORD.

Almost Only Security Market to Show Strength and Stability.

New York, July 29.—The New York stock exchange was almost the only security market in the world to show strength and stability today. While London and Paris were discouraging trading and many other foreign exchanges were entirely closed because of demoralized conditions, resulting from the Austro-Servian war, this market not only continued to absorb further heavy offerings from across the water, but put the short interest to rout as well.

Berlin was a helpful factor here, that center taking large amounts of Canadian Pacific at steady advances and buying other issues in the international list. London and Paris were sellers by arbitrage and direct offerings to a considerable extent.

Before the end of the first hour all losses were retrieved with numerous material gains, which were added to in the course of the early session. There were some recessions at midday on announcement of more gold exports, together with a resultant advance in call money to 5 per cent. Declines were soon regained, however, and in the final hour highest prices were registered.

Prices shaded from fractions to a full point early in the afternoon in resumption of gold engagements. A total of $4,000,000 was ordered, of which $2,509,000 was taken from the clearing house vault. It is understood that the gold goes to London.

Renewal of the gold movement was followed by a rise in call money rates to 5 per cent.

Another sharp advance was reported in the rate on gold shipments asked by marine insurance companies. The rate yesterday was $1.250 for each million dollars shipped. Today it was advanced to $5,000 with a slightly lower rate for shipments in Americana vessels.

ONLY LIMITED DEALINGS.

Berlin Bankers' Association in Precautionary Action.

Berlin, July 29.—The bankers association met today and decided against closing the bourse, but resolved to suspend dealings in securities handled for settlement. This includes all the principal stocks. Dealings in the cash market, however, continue.

Bankers here display the most pessimistic mood today. It is expected that the committee of the German imperial bank will meet tomorrow and raise the discount rate from a four to five per cent.

The bourse committee later announced that dealings would be permitted to a limited degree and that settlement quotations would be issued this afternoon.

yesterday for military traffic and transportation for the general public was suspended.

Servia, it was known, was just as active in moving her troops. Strong forces were dispatched to the fortified towns of Valyevo and Uzhitza on the Bosnian frontier and to Svilajnatz in the eastern part of the country while strong divisions of volunteers reinforced by regulars were gathering along the river Drinanear Losnitz on the Bosnian frontier.

The Montenegrins also were making preparations and had stationed a brigade with a mountain battery near Priboj, where women were busy building earth works.

Aviators Are Busy.

Servian and Austrian aviators at the same time were flying along the frontiers trying to locate the positions of the opposing forces.

As far as a general European war is concerned, diplomats in London, while they confess the situation to be most grave, consider there is hope of averting a conflict so long as the Austri-Russian "conversations" continue at St. Petersburg.

A telegram from Premier Pachitch of Servia to the Servia legation in London registers a formal complaint in regard to Austrian attacks on Servian merchant vessels on the Danube. It says: "The Austria-Hungarian military and civil authorities fired throughout the day on July 26 without the slightest provocation from our side and damaged three of our trading vessels at Kostelatz on the Danube. The Servian flags were hauled down and replaced by the Austrian colors. There were, however, no casualties."

GERMANY HOPES FOR PEACE.

Emperor and Czar Exchange Messages on the Situation.

Berlin, July 29.—The German emperor and Emperor Nicholas of Russia today exchanged telegraphic communications concerning the international crisis.

The North German Gazette, the official organ of the German government, will publish in its evening edition the following comment on the international situation:

"The peaceful tone of the official Russian communication issued yesterday finds a lively echo here. The imperial German government shares the wish of Russia for the maintenance of peaceful relations and it hopes the German people will support it by maintaining a moderate and quiet attitude."

Military activity on the Russian side of the frontier is confirmed by many evidences which have reached the ears of German officials, but it was stated here today that no mobilization order had been issued by the Russian war office. Private reports from the Russian frontier say distinct indications of Russian military activity have been noticed there. The Russian regiments which have been moving forward to such strategic points on the frontier as Wirballen, Russian Poland, have been served out with 350 rounds of ammunition per man, while hasty purchases of forage have been made for the cavalry.

A number of German regiments have been moved toward the frontier as a precautionary measure. The men wear the new gray uniforms and carry their field equipment.

There was the most intense activity in diplomatic circles here today but no tangible developments were reported. A diplomat said he saw some ground for optimism, but the German foreign office declared there was nothing on which to base a judgment one way or the other. The German crown prince arrived at Potsdam today and a family council was afterward held in the new palace. The emperor and empress, the crown prince and the other princes of the imperial family were present. They conferred for an hour.

FRANCE PREPARES QUIETLY.

Troops of Active Army Concentrating Near the Frontier.

Paris, July 29.—France continues quietly to prepare for war. The troops of the active army are gradually concentrating near the frontier. A military guard has been placed in the great flour mills at Corbeil, near Paris, which in the event of war would be taken over by the army. The bakers in Paris are laying in large stocks of flour and the city authorities, to prevent all possibility of famine in the capital, started forming today a reserve store of 15,000 tons of flour.

The police department is exercising a general surveillance over Austrians and Germans in Paris where many thousands of them reside. The prefect of police today ordered the discontinuance of the service of the public at tables on the sidewalks and on the terraces in front of cafes in consequence of disorders which have occurred since the beginning of the international tension.

The government made an appeal to the press to keep calm and carefully to verify its news concerning the crisis before publishing it.

Adeolphe Messimy, minister of war, today inspected the wireless station of Eiffel tower and ordered the staff doubled.

Long lines of depositors waited outside the savings banks today to withdra wtheir money as all payments will be suspended in case of war.

Gold coin had almost disappeared from circulation in Paris todayand even silver was becoming so scarce that many of th esmall storekeepers were unable to give change.

EFFORT TO LOCALIZE WAR.

Germany and Italy Bending Energies in That Direction.

Vienna, July 29.—Germany and Italy today continued their efforts to localize the war declared yesterday by their ally Austria-Hungary against Servia, and the efforts of all the European diplomats are being directed toward the same object.

No further declaration had been received up to this morning from Russia and that country also had made no fresh attempt to intervene in the controversy. The Russia ambassador to Austria-Hungary, however, conferred with Count Leopold von Berchtold, Austro-Hungarian foreign minister, but it is understood the interview was only for the purpose of obtaining informa-of the disposition of Russia to make a declaration of neutrality in case Austri-Hungary should renounce the idea of territorial expansion at the expense of the Balkan state. Dispatches received here dated Warsaw, Poland, report that several powder magazines exploded in that city on Monday and that several bomb explosions occurred in the post-office, many persons being killed or wounded.

Another telegram says the entire citadel of Warsaw was blown up and that semi-official circles declared the explosion to have been caused by lightning. The dispatch said there was no truth in the report that a revolution had broken out among the Russian Poles.

All Servians liable to military service residing in Austria-Hungary are being arrested and handed over to the military as prisoners of war.

WILL BUILD BIG SHIPPING PLANT

Electric Works Asks City to Approve Lease of Ground.

The Fort Wayne Electric works of the General Electric company, has asked the city's approval of a provisional lease of a large strip of ground lying east of the present store room, which it has secured from the Wabash Railroad company.

The ground is needed for a shipping and storage plant, as the buildings and ground now used for that purpose are inadequate. The lease is upon the condition that the city approve it for the reason that the ground was given to the Wabash company for railway purposes and cannot be sold, and the Electric company does not wish to take chances on a twenty-five year lease on property that might be taken from them. If the council approves the lease, the Fort Wayne Electric company will at once build a store house and shipping department upon the ground that will cost $400,000. The company in its communication to the city officials, states that it is impossible to take the shipping department west of Broadway and that the ground in question is the only available site for the purpose. It gives access to both the Pennsylvania and the Wabash roads, and is already provided with spur tracks and sidings.

When he left Fort Wayne one week ago he appeared to be in his usual health and news of his sudden death comes as a great shock to his relatives and many friends. Mr. Heine was 77 years of age.

The big car plunged over a ten foot embankment, according to Mr. Brudi, who was driving, and turned over on its side, throwing the occupants to the ground, but luckily all escaped injury. The automobile was slightly damaged.

Two Hundred Men Battling With Blaze Near Missoula, Mont.

Missoula, Mont., July 29.—Two hundred men were engaged today in fighting forest fires in a heavy stand of spruce on the Big river in the Flathead national forest. Assistant Forester Preston left here yesterday to take charge.

"We are facing a repetition of the great fires of 1910," said District Forester Silcox, "unless we can stamp out these fires before they run together."

BECKY TAKES IT IN TABLOID FORM

Miss Davis Catches Hunger Striker Swallowing Food on Sly.

New York, July 29.—Becky Edelson, the industrial workers of the world orator, who has been on an intermittent hunger strike in the penitentiary on Blackwell's island, has been taking food in tabloid form, according to an announcement today by Miss Katherine Davis, commissioner of corrections.

Yesterday Miss Davis said she had discovered the young woman took two tablets containing nutrition equal to that in a glass of milk. This, the commissioner said, explained why Miss Edelson was in such good physical condition when she testified yesterday in Tarrytown at the trial of the nine leaders of the Industrial Workers of the World. Dr. Ernest S. Bishop was to visit the penitentiary today as consulting physician, and if, in his opinion, Miss Edelson is in need of nourishment she was to be forcibly fed.

B. & O. FILES PETITION.

Asks Permission to Continue to Use "Deckless" Engines.

Indianapolis, Ind., July 29.—The Baltimore and Ohio railroad company today filed a petition with the public service commission asking permission to continue the use of what are known as "deckless" engines on its lines. It asked that its petition might be heard Thursday morning at the same time as a similar petition from the Baltimore and Ohio Southwestern. The engines in question are so constructed that the engineer and fireman cannot see each other when they are seated in the engine cab. The boiler of the engine extends into the cab. The B. & O. petition said it had twenty-two of these engines in use and that it will cost much to reconstruct them properly. The present stringent financial condition of all steam railroads, the petition points out, should have some influence with the commission.

NEWS OF FORT WAYNE'S NEIGHBORS

MADE A MSNNONITE BISHOP.

Berne, Ind., July 29.—Rev. E. J. Neuenschwander has been made a bishop of the Mennonite church, in accordance with a demand made by the congregation of the church of that sect at Aberdeen, S. D., of which the newly ordained bishop is to be pastor. Before the ordination ceremonies here Rev. Joel Lehman, Rev. S. F. Sprunger and Rev. Karl van der Smissen, delivered short sermons. Rev. Neuenschwander is a native of Berne, the son of C. A. Neuenschwander, president of the Bank of Berne. He was born on his father's farm one mile south of Berne, and after graduating from the eighth grade of the Wabash township schools, in 1899, for several years followed mercantile pursuits. In 1910 he decided to enter the ministry and went to the Naperville seminary, where he received his preparatory and theological education. Rev. Neuenschwander and his wife, who was formerly Miss Alma Sprunger, left Tuesday for Aberdeen.

BOYS MAKE SERIOUS CHARGE.

Van Wert, Ohio, July 29. The police of Van Wert are investigating charges made by some boys that Reuben Frisbie tried to drown his 4-old-year son in Rupright's pond, a short distance south of the city. The lads were there bathing when Frisbie came to the pond and after taking a swim threw his child into the water. He made no effort to rescue the little boy and he had gone down for the second time when one of the crowd of boys leaped into the water and dragged the Frisbie child to shore. It was necessary to roll him for some time to restore consciousness. Frisbie now claims that while he was in the water one of the boys robbed his clothes of over $12.

AUBURN WILL REMAIN "DRY."

Anti-Saloon People Win Election by Increased Majority.

Auburn, Ind., July 29.—Auburn was voted into the "dry" column for another two years in yesterday's option election, which the anti-saloon element carried by a majority of 220. The election was devoid of excitement and sensations, though both "drys" and "wets" worked with energy. The last option election was in November, 1911, when the city went "dry" by a majority of twelve. For over six years Auburn has been without a legalized liquor traffic, it being first made "dry" by remonstrance and having never since then admitted any saloons.

BAD FIRE IN DEFIANCE.

Defiance, O., July 29.—Fire of unknown origin which started in the stable of the Cheney Lumber Co. burned $5,000 of lumber, three horses, stable and lumber storage buildings. The fire was discovered at midnight and burned all night. Hard work by the fire department saved the office, factory and other nearby buildings. Total loss is $7,000, partially covered by insurance.

CAUSED SCARE IN JAIL.

Hartford City, Ind., July 29.—Bud Morris, sent here from Montpelier to serve out eleven days on a charge of drunkenness, caused something of a scare in the jail when he announced that his wife and baby in Montpelier were ill with smallpox and that his home was under quarantine. The sheriff had Morris handsomely fumigated, isolated him and kept him under close observation for signs of the outbreak of the disease. Inquiry at Montpelier disclosed that Morris had fabricated his story in the hope of being thrown out of the jail. His wife and child are not ill with smallpox or any other disease. Morris has no wife and child.

BERNE FORGER GETS AWAY.

Berne, Ind., July 29.—It has been learned here that Arthur L. McCune, a young man whose departure after passing three forged checks in Berne was reported last Saturday, passed two other checks signed with the forged name of his employer, John Farlow, before he departed. In Berne he cashed checks for $5, $8 and $9, respectively, at the Luginbill & Sprunger store, People's Store and the Manas Baumgardner place. It developed that later he went to Chattanooga, near the state line, where he passed two forged checks, for $17 and $22, respectively, on saloonkeepers. He then returned to Berne, and in company with James Lawson went to Decatur, and thence departed for North Dakota.

BLUFFTON MUST SHIP IN ICE.

Bluffton, Ind., July 29.—So great is the demand for ice this summer that it is thought the present stock of ice will not last through the month of September. R. S. Morrow, owner of the Home Ice company, states that the increasing demand every year is very noticeable. Last winter when storing the ice it was thought at that time that the supply would last until December, as all four ice houses were completely filled. This supply would have easily lasted through the remainder of any ordinary previous year, but it will not be sufficient this year, as the demand is too great.

EFFORTS FOR AN EARLY TRIAL.

Warsaw, Ind., July 29.—The authorities of the Kosicusko circuit court are making every effort to start next Monday on the trial of Antonio Nicholas and George Mendes, brought here from Goshen on a change of venue to answer to charges of murder, assault with intent to commit murder and criminal assault. The Mendes brothers are the members of the gypsy band in whose camp two murders were committed at Goshen July 1. People of Warsaw and vicinity hope that an early trial will be possible in order that the gypsies may have no pretext for hanging around this city.

RIBS BROKEN IN RUNAWAY.

Warsaw, Ind., July 29.—Jack Robinson, proprietor of the Robinson meat market on Market street, is confined to his home suffering from the results of a runaway on Tuesday morning in which he sustained two broken ribs, a severely bruised and injured shoulder and other injuries. Mr. Robinson and his son, Richard, were driving to the slaughterhouse, north of the city, along the narrow lane leading to the building, when the colt they were driving became frightened and got beyond control.

BOY CONVICTS HIS MOTHER.

Huntington, Ind., July 29.—Sarah Shively was fined $25 and costs and sentenced to twenty-five days in jail on a charge of operating a resort. Walter, a son 13 years old, was turned over to B. H. Hurd, president of the board of children's guardians. He will be sent to the orphans' home at Mexico, Ind. He was taken before Judge Cook in the circuit court where the necessary papers for his admittance to the home were obtained. It was chiefly on the testimony of the boy that the Shively woman was convicted.

FIRES TWO SHOTS AT WIFE.

Warsaw, Ind., July 29.—Lawrence Stiffler, of Syracuse, caused considerable excitement at the home of his father-in-law, Sam Firestone, in Goshen, when he threatened to shoot his wife. Stiffler had been drinking and quarreled with his wife. He was to have driven her home, but she knew he had a revolver and was afraid of him. He fired a couple of shots when she was near the buggy, but it was not known whether he intended to hit her or not. A Goshen officer was called, but no arrest was made.

THE SENTINEL'S DAILY SCRIPTURE READING.

Micah 4:1-8.

1 But in the last days it shall come to pass, that the mountain of the house of the Lord shall be established in the top of the mountains, and it shall be exalted above the hills; and people shall flow into it.

2 And many nations shall come, and say, Come, and let us go up to the mountain of the Lord, and to the house of the God of Jacob; and he will teach us of his ways, and we will walk in his paths: for the law shall go forth of Zion, and the word of the Lord from Jerusalem.

3 And he shall judge among many people, and rebuke strong nations afar off; and they shall beat their swords into plowshares, and their spears into pruninghooks: nation shall not lift up a sword against nation, neither shall they learn war any more.

4 But they shall sit every man under his vine and under his fig tree; and none shall make them afraid: for the mouth of the Lord of hosts hath spoken it.

5 For all people will walk every one in the name of his god, and we will walk in the name of the Lord our God for ever and ever.

6 In that day, saith the Lord, will I assemble her that halteth, and I will gather her that is driven out, and her that I have afflicted;

7 And I will make her that halted a remnant, and her that was cast far off a strong nation: and the Lord shall reign over them in mount Zion from henceforth, even for ever.

8 And thou, O tower of the flock, the strong hold of the daughter of Zion, unto thee shall it come, even the first dominion; the kingdom shall come to the daughter of Jerusalem.

WEDNESDAY, JULY 29, 1914.

Tammany and Wilson.

Colonel Roosevelt's battle with Chairman Barnes with its kaliedoscopic sidelights in New York politics has served to detract recent attention somewhat from the ambitious Tammany hall contingent in the democratic fold, but it must not be assumed that Tammany has been idle. It has not been nursing its grievance in quiet, and is now coming into the forefront with the announcement that it purposes to protest to President Wilson regarding his shocking disregard of Tammany's wishes in the disposition of federal appointments in New York.

Tammany, as a matter of fact, had little occasion to expect a great deal of consideration from the president. He was against Mr. Murphy's organization, and both Mr. Murphy and the people at large knew it. Mr. Wilson left nobody in doubt on that proposition. In such appointments as have been made in New York, the president has demonstrated a striking predilection for picking independent democrats for the places and ignoring Tammny in a fashion that has made the old organization writhe and groan. Now Tammny congressmen are to have a talk with the president to see what can be done about it.

Very naturally the club which they purpose using is the threat that unless the tiger is appeased politically, the democrats are likely to lose most of the New York congressmen. Tammany will demand to have a say in things or it will refuse to play longer. What Tammany has never been able to realize, apparently, is that the rest of the country is against it, and that as a matter of fact the president's course in keeping clear of alliance with the Murphy organization is one of the factors that contributes very largely to his popular strength. Tammany may talk and plead and cajole and urge and threaten, but we do not believe it will secure any sort of concession from Mr. Wilson. He will follow the straight course he has mapped out and keep free from entangling alliances.

Announcement is made that when the progressives hold their rally in Fort Wayne next Thursday the moosers from over the district are coming to town in a big automobile parade, with a befitting accompaniment of brass bands to give proper vent to party enthusiasm. If the event comes up to the advance notices, it is going to necessitate some revision of local republican estimates to the general effect that there isn't enough of Colonel Roosevelt's party left hereabouts to make noise sufficient to disturb the peaceful slumbers of a babe.

The city council's action in urging immediate beginning of work of grade separtion at Walton avenue, which has been hanging fire on one pretext or another for several years, is to be commended. If we are ever to have track elevation east of Calhoun street, the start must be made somewhere, and perhaps action at Walton avenue will serve to give some needed stimulation to the remainder of the project.

Having been without saloons for six years, the city of Auburn has concluded that the saloonless town is altogether the most desirable and that it has no intention of allowing the bar rooms to come back. Just how strongly this conviction is implanted is indicated by the fact that at the option election Tuesday the "dry" majority was 220 as against a bare 12 but little more than two years ago. Sometimes there's eloquence in figures.

Also it will be noted that the Caillaux trial was considerate enough to get out the way in time to permit the American reading public to give its undivided attention on foreign matters to the Austrian-Servian war. Mme. Caillaux had held the spotlight of popular interest long enough, anyhow.

If Weatherman Palmer, from his busy workshop in the top floor of the Shoaff building, will agree to continue serving the present brand, The Sentinel moves that all the past be forgi[ven].

GUILT A PERSONAL AFFAIR.

(Philadelphia Ledger)

The United States is now engaged in the task of making guilt personal. That phase of the New Haven case eclipses in interest the Attorney General's suit to dissolve the railroad system.

If the officers and directors of the New Haven were criminally guilty of wrong-doing the public will applaud their conviction; but if they erred only in their business judgment, then they should be exonerated of anything worse than stupidity.

The New Haven offers a fine opportunity for the Federal law to settle several important questions. First, can a monopoly be created at any price? Second, may officials of an inter-State railroad, in their zeal to perfect such a monopoly, wreck their property and remain guiltless? Third, can the government demand restitution for the millions that have disappeared?

Whatever be the result of Attorney General McReynold's action, it will be a wholesome thing to have the financial atmosphere entirely cleared of this whole New Haven fog. There must be in the highest courts a clean-cut settlement of every issue involved—monopoly, financial loss and personal guilt.

Other railroads and other sections of the country will eventually profit by this government action to solve all the doubtful questions involved in the great New England catastrophe. It is major surgery which President Wilson proposes, but it is the only thing that can save the patient.

Once and for all it should be determined whether the guardians of a property may chase a will-o'-the-wisp to the point of bankruptcy without being financially and personally responsible for the results.

AEROPLANE PROGRESS.

(Indianapolis Star)

Saturday thousands of Indianapolis people were treated to the spectacle of Lincoln Beachey in an aeroplane careening up and down the wind almost as though the air were his natural habitat. He demonstrated by every flight that the aeroplane is coming to the practical stage. A few years ago Professor Langley was derided when he launched his aeroplane in the Potomac from the deck of a vessel and it fell into the water. He died a broken-hearted man, it is said, because of this failure. A few weeks ago Glenn Curtiss went to the Smithsonian institute, got out Langley's old flyer and demonstrated by flying it that Professor Langley was only unfortunate in his manner of attempting to launch his flight from the deck of a vessel. Curtiss himself, a few years ago electrified the country by a flight down the Hudson. Today aeroplanes have stayed in the air, not one or two hours, but a day and night. Curtiss, through the generosity of Rodman Wanamaker, has constructed a huge hydro-aeroplane with which an Englishman, Lieutenant Porte, expects to fly across the Atlantic this fall. That such a stupendous feat is even thought of indicates the progress made. The longest span of the flight will be about one thousand two hundred miles. Shades of Columbus! If that brave Genoese of 1492 could have looked into the future and known that man would even now be considering such a flight!

The English and other continental governments are spending huge sums of money on their aviation corps and spending money because they believe aviation is not a plaything, but science. The United States has taken up the subject seriously. We have a fleet of aeroplanes in Mexican waters. We also have aviation schools. ters. We also have army aviation schools.

State Charities Board in Session Reviews Work of Quarter.

Indianapolis, Ind., July 29.—The board of state charities, meeting yesterday in quarterly session, discussed various questions pertaining to the operation of the state institutions and received reports from agents of the board. Governor Ralston, who is a member of the board by virtue of his position, attended both the morning and afternoon session.

Reports submitted to the board yesterday showed that in the quarter the board's agents made 1,234 visits to dependent children, who have been taken from orphanages and placed with families. Only nineteen, or 1.5 per cent. were reported not found. Of the 1,215 children visited, 1,024, or 84.3 per cent. were reported doing well; 142, or 11.7 percent. fairly; a total of 1,166, or 96 per cent. doing satisfactorily. Forty-nine, or 4 per cent. were doing poorly. Of the nineteen children reported not found, six later were located.

Many Applications Received.

One hundred and sixty applications were received. Of these twenty-six, or 16.3 per cent., were for children under 6 years of age; 15.6 per cent. for children 6 to 10; 28.8 per cent. for boys and girls from 11 to 13 years, and 60.7 per cent. for children 14 years and over.

One hundred and thirty-eight applications were investigated, thirty-six of which were rejected as unfit.

In the quarter 132 children were placed in family homes. Seventy-nine, or 59.8 per cent., were placed for the first time and fifty-three, or 41.2 per cent., had been placed before.

Agents Make Investigations.

The agents made seventy-six visits to orphans' homes and fifty-five calls on county officials concerning children's work. One hundred and thirty-three special investigations were made. Five hundred and thirty-three days were spent in the field and the cost to the state was $3,629.34 for agents' expenses and to the counties for children's expenses it was $236.24.

The board received the report of Miss S. Ethel Clark, inspector for the license department, to the effect that seventy applications for license as maternity institutions had been given attention in the quarter. Sixty-two of these were approved, one withdrawn and seven are pending. Of the applications granted, five were new and the others were renewals. There are 127 licenses in force at this time. MR. JOSEPH LILL.

MRS. JOSEPH LILL.

A very pretty wedding took place this morning at 9 o'clock in St. Peter's Catholic church in the marriage of Miss Loretta Frances Graf, daughter of Mrs. Philip Graf, and Mr. Joseph C. Lill, a son of Mrs. Mary Lill, also of this city.

Rev. Charles Thiele celebrated the nuptial mass with many friends witnessing the ceremony. Miss Julia Alter and Mr. Joseph Suelzer were the attendants. Ferns and small palms decorated the church prettily. The bride, who is pretty and sweet in appearance looked quite lovely in her wedding costume. Her gown was made of white organdy and with it she wore a white hat trimmed with ostrich plumes. The bride carried a bouquet of bride roses. Miss Alter was dressed in a gown of white net hung over blue silk and her hat was white with blue ostrich plume to watch the coloring in her gown. The bridesmaid's bouquet was a shower of pink roses. After the church service the bridal party and immediate relatives were served a wedding breakfast at the bride's home, 1930 Lafayette street. The house was decorated with flowers, ferns and smilax, and the bride's table with white snapdragon blossoms and garlands of smilax. This afternoon the bride and groom go to London, Ontario, and will be away all summer. Mr. Lill is a member of the pitching staff of the Ottawa, Canadian league baseball club, where he played last season under Frank J. Shaughnessy. Before he went into organized ball he was a pitcher for the Fort Wayne Rolling mills club of the local shop league, having taken up baseball on his return from college at Rennsalear. He will rejoin the club on Monday of next week and continue as a member of the staff. The bride is well known and a favorite among her many friends. For traveling the bride will wear a blue serge suit with white Panama hat. Mr. and Mrs. Ed Richlin, of Toledo, Ohio, relatives of the groom were her to attend the wedding, accompanied by their daughters, Ethel and Dorothy.

"Grandma" Heroine of Quaint Story.

New York, July 28.—A new kind of grandmother, not the frilly, silly young grandmother, nor yet the sit-in-the-corner kind of grandmother, made her bow to the public this summer as the heroine of Mrs. George Wemyss' new book, "Grannie." This new "grannie" considers herself old enough at 50 to wear caps, but her heart is young enough to share the confidences of toddling grandsons and grown-up romantic granddaughters.

IN THE CHURCHES DECIDE TO GIVE A PLAY THIS FALL

"Her Gloves" is Title of Play to Be Staged by A. C. W. in October.

At the regular monthly meeting of the executive committee of the Associated Christian Workers held Tuesday evening at the Crescent Avenue Evangelical church it was decided after some discussion to give a new play this fall. The managing of the play was left in the hands of the social committee, Emil Koenig chairman, and it has been decided by this committee to give the play entitled, "Her Gloves," a three-act comedy-drama, on Thursday and Friday evenings, October 22 and 23. The chairman has had two names submitted to him from each society from which the cast will be chosen at the first rehearsal, which will be held the first part of September.

The meeting of the executive committee Tuesday evening was to have been held in the Lakeside park following the supper which was served there by the social committee of the Crescent Avenue church, but due to the fact that it was rather cool, the meeting was held in the church. Following the roll call, which showed sixteen present, and the reading of the secretary's report of the last meeting, the discussion of new business began.

It was suggested that the association attend the meetings of the Rescue Mission, Gospel Mission and the county orphans' home and the plans for this was left in the hands of the missionary committee. The place of the next meeting is to be decided by the social committee, and it is probable that it will be held in the east part of the city near the Calvary U. B. church.

The social committee chairman was asked to give a report on the trolley party to be held on the evening of August 4. He stated that 235 tickets had been given out and that in some cases the presidents had asked for more, which were supplied. He urged that every president report by next Monday morning how many of their society were going to attend so that enough cars would be on hand to accommodate all.

ARE AWARE OF DOWNFALL.

"Liquor Men Are Seeing the Hand Writing on the Wall," Says Mrs. C. Vayhinger.

That the men who deal in intoxicating liquors and drinks are aware of their coming downfall and the powerful work of the Women's Christian Temperance union in the state, as well as in the nation, was a point brought out by Mrs. Culla Vayhinger in her stirring address at the assembly room of the court house Tuesday evening, when she made this statement, "The liquor men are seeing the handwriting on the wall."

Mrs. Vayhinger, who is president of the Indiana body of the W. C. T. U., gave examples as proof for her statement and she also said that the issue in the next political campaign in November would be the liquor question. She left Wednesday morning for Chicago, where she has been asked to do some special work for the temperance unions.

Mrs. Lulu Gleason, field secretary of the Ohio W. C. T. U., also gave a short talk on the work being done in Ohio. She told how the women there had worked for the amendment to the constitution and had secured over 20,000 names more than was necessary, showing the progress being made along the line of prohibition. She urged the Allen county women to get busy and try to secure for themselves and other women of the state some kind of a franchise in the state government. She made the surprising statement that Indiana is the only state that does not give its women franchise on something or other.

One of the surprising features of the meeting was that over one-third of the seats were occupied by men, which has never occurred before in any meeting of this character here.

FORT WAYNE MAN'S EXPERIENCE WITH HORRIBLE CREATURE

Monster Measured 60 feet in Length---Mr. Clarence Omo, Living at 1515 Fletcher Avenue, Tells How He Was Saved by Pizaro's Discovery---Office at 215 West Berry Street---Crowded Daily.

Some interesting and astonishing facts have been brought to light within the past week by the visit of Pizaro to this city. A number of people called at the office at 215 W. Berry street, where Pizaro is making his headquarters, bringing with them in various receptacles immense parasites. These people have recently been taking one of the Pizaro preparations. There were many of them frightened and came to ascertain the nature of the creatures which they had brought with them.

When asked to explain the matter he replied: "In every city I visit these things are brought to me within a week after my medicines are sold in a city. They are what is commonly known as the tapeworm, and grow to an enormous size. They may be anywhere from ten to seventy-five feet in length

"Few, indeed, realize how common the creatures are. I believe that fully one-half of the chronic stomach trouble that is so universal is caused by these parasites.

Individauls may be afflicted with them for years and not be aware of the reason for continued ill-health, but attribute it to various diseases, when in reality one of these creatures is absorbing their vitality.

"The surest indication of one of these parasites is feeling of extreme lassitude at all times and a disinclination for any effort.

"Individuals who lack ambition, feel tired all the time, who have dizzy spells, coated tongues, bad taste in the mouth, who have poor circulation and poor memory believe they are suffering from many complaints. The true reason for their condition is, as a rule, nothing more or less than one of these parasites.

"I have had many of the things brought to me while in this city, and I don't know how many people will be relieved of them who I will never hear about at all. The action of my medicine seems to be fatal to these great worms. In almost all cases a few doses of the medicine drive the creatures from the system.

Fort Wayne Man Saved.

Mr. Clarence Omo, 1515 Fletcher ave., tells of his experience:

"For a long time I have been suffering untold misery. My stomach would pain at times and would swell. Gas would form and my food would distress me so that I was discouraged, as I tried several different doctors with no success until I went and saw Pizaro's expert. He gave me just one dose of medicine and told me to go home and await the results. I did so and in a few hours I was relieved of a monster tape worm over sixty feet in length. I am well now and happy and I recommend Pizaro's stomach remedy."

Crowds Flocking.

Pizaro's doctor is kept busy from morning until night at his office, 215 West Berry street. The doctor is giving examination and consultation to all the sick and suffering who call.

Pizaro lectures every evening and gives a free entertainment at his grounds, located at the corner of South Calhoun and Creighton avenue.

WILL ORDER BOALT DEPORTED.

Garrison Declares Writer's "Law of Flight" Story False.

Washington, July 29.—Secretary Garrison announced today that he would direct Brig. Gen. Funston at Vera Cruz to deport from Mexico Fred L. Boalt, a correspondent, who sent out a sensational story that an American naval officer applied the "law of flight" to Mexican prisoners. A court of inquiry pronounced the story false.

LIGHT OVERCOATS AND FURS.

Coldest July 28 in Twenty-five Years Sets New Style in New York.

New York, July 29.—Light overcoats and even furs were much in evidence on the streets and on trains in New York last night and the temperature of between 61 degrees and 70 degrees made those persons who wore winter clothing the envy of the summer-clad folk.

According to the weather bureau forecaster yesterday was the coolest July 28 since 1884. A heavy rain and east winds were responsible for the drop in the temperature which today was expected to remain in the neighborhood of 70 degrees. The forecaster added that no very warm weather was in sight this week. Captains of incoming steamers said that the weather on the ocean was cooler during the past few days than they had known it at the end of July for the last twenty-five years.

WILL HAVE NEW POLICE STATION

Board of Works Decides to Use Rabus Property for That Purpose.

Extensive remodeling of the interior of the city hall, reconstruction of the Rabus dwelling just east of the city building and recently purchased by the city to accommodate the municipal electric light and power department offices into police headquarters and a shifting about of offices in the city building are plans provided for in the budget of the board of works, which was partially completed Wednesday. The plans now are to equip the present rooms occupied by the board of works for the city electric light and power offices, shift the board of works into the south end of the city building in the rooms now taken up by the police department and thoroughly overhaul the Rabus property for police station purposes and employ the basement portion now used by the police for storeroom purposes. It is believed that it will be on all accounts better to keep the electric light offices in the city building convenient to the office of the comptroller, which is directly across the main corridor from the present rooms of the board of works.

The board has decided to ask for more money for garbage collection next year and will put on twelve wagons instead of eight, as now.

COUNCIL DEMANDS ELEVATION.

Wants Something Done to Separate Grades East of Calhoun.

The city council expressed its impatience with the board of works because nothing has been done for the elevation of the Wabash and Pennsylvania tracks east of Calhoun street, demanded the opening of proceedings for a subway at Walton avenue and the Pennsylvania by unanimously adopting a resolution to that end and one councilman even went so far as to declare his opinion that if there was no immediate prospect of spending money for track elevation the levy should be cut in two and half of it given to the garbage plant fund.

The subject was brought up for discussion by a resolution prepared and introduced by President William A. Bayer, of the council, instructing the board of works at once to bring in a resolution for the Walton avenue elevation, which was adopted by unanimous vote of the thirteen members present. The resolution is as follows:

"Whereas, There is an urgent necessity existing for grade separation at Walton avenue, and

"Whereas, Mayor Hosey assured the track elevation committee and the citizens of the east side that he favored the same, provided the grade conform with the general plan of track elevation east of Calhoun street, and also stated emphatically to the track elevation committee and the citizens of the east side that resolutions would be adopted and work started this year, and

"Whereas, This meeting of the mayor, the track elevation committee and the citizens of the east side having taken place in April of this year and the board of works not having done anything so far toward that end, therefore be it

"Resolved, By the common council that the board of public works be hereby instructed to at once prepare the necessary resolutions for the separation of grades at Walton avenue."

Messrs. Hartman, councilman-at-large; Keller, of the Eighth ward; President Bayer, Mills, of the Sixth ward, and Kinder, councilman-at-large, expressed the belief that Walton avenue ought to be gone at promptly, though Korte, of the Tenth ward, a part of the city more than any other interested in the improvement, opposed it. President Bayer pointed out that the surveys made showed that the raising of the Pennsylvania grade two and one-half feet at Walton avenue would bring that portion into conformance with the Calhoun street grade. Ofenloch, of the Seventh ward, thought it would be better to make the first proceedings effective as to Lafayette and Hanna streets, and at the same time thought conditions were not just now favorable for putting the railroads under too much pressure. Councilman Hartman said he did not believe that the ten-cent levy for track elevation ought to be reduced in the 1915 rate, but insisted that if there was no prospect that the board was going to get anything done next year a five-cent levy was sufficient and said the other five cents should be added to the garbage plant levy. "We want to get something done along some line," concluded the councilman. Chairman Frank E. Singrey, of the board of works, was present and asked the privilege of the floor for a few minutes, during which he explained that the mayor and board had no personal preferences in the matter of track elevation, but wanted to do that which was practical and best. He indicated that resolutions for work east of Calhoun street would not long be delayed.

The council passed an ordinance authorizing the city comptroller to lend $12,000 to the park board to tide that body over until its fall taxes were available; an ordinance regulating the storage and removal of manure; authorizing the mayor to take regular procedure for the alienation and sale of city property, which in this case is some scrap iron and brass in the waterworks department; an ordinance providing for the salary of another officer in the health department's sanitary force and providing $840 to pay his salary for a year, and referred to the finance committee an ordinance appropriating $3,000 to the board of safety to repair three fire engines; to the committee on rules, regulations and ordinances an ordinance to amend the ordinance regulating the installation of electric service lines and meters; to the committee on finance and the committee on fees and salaries an ordinance to pay Henry Becker $900 due him as clerk of the municipal light and power department from June, 1909, to January, 1914; an ordinance amending the ordinance regulating the use of the streets by traction engines; to the committee on [illegible]

the franchise given by the board of works to the Fort Wayne and Northern Indiana Traction company for a double track on Calhoun street, from Creighton avenue to Pontiac street and along with it a remonstrance of property owners on that part of the street affected by the franchise. The ordinance will be reported unfavorably and sent back to the board without approval.

PRODDING WABASH RECEIVER.

Board of Works Intimates That Taylor Street Better Be Completed.

In a letter mailed Wednesday to Edward B. Pryor, receiver of the Wabash railroad, the board of works advises that officer of the court that it will be much better for the city and for the railroad if the Wabash will inaugurate procedure for the early completion of track elevation work at Taylor street. The board disclaims any purpose to threaten—but it wants the work done and calls attention to the fact that the job has been monkeyed with for two years and is still incomplete. What the board means to convey is that if something is not soon done to complete the Taylor street work the Wabash will be made to suffer consequences under the terms of its contract with the city whereby it received valuable grants for the accommodation of its freight terminal in Fort Wayne. The city can go ahead and complete the Taylor street work and make the railroad pay for it, as the city threatened to do at Harrison street before the Wabash finally got down to business with grade separation work on that thoroughfare. Workmen came to the city Tuesday to repair damage to the South Wayne sewer caused by piling driven into the drain from the temporary work at Taylor street and were not doing it satisfactorily.

WILL ENFORCE NEW ORDINANCE.

Measure Regulating the Storage and Removal of Manure to Have Effect.

Dr. J. H. Gilpin, secretary of the board of health stated Wednesday that the ordinance passed by the city council Tuesday night regulating the storage and removal of manure within the city limits would be stringently enforced by the health department. The ordinance was drafted by Dr. H. O. Bruggeman, president of the board of health, and Dr. Gilpin and it is designed as a measure both of health and cleanliness. It is expected to do more than any other one thing attempted in Fort Wayne to abolish the fly nuisance. The ordinance provides that manure must be kept in covered bins that shall be emptied twice a week during the period from June 1 to November 1 of each year and once each two weeks during the balance of the year. Keepers of horses, mules, cows or other live stock within the city must report their holdings and where such stock is kept. The records will be kept on file in the health office.

BIDS FOR CREMATORY COAL.

The board of works has taken under advisement the bids for 1,000 tons of coal for use of the garbage crematory. Five bidders submitted proposals, and an award will probably be made Thursday evening at the regular meeting of the board. The following bids were handed in:

Olds Coal company, $1.09, $1.09, $1.19, $1.15, $1.30, $1.30 per ton according to grade; J. F. Zurbach Coal company, $1.32, $1.20, $1.05, $ .90, $1.15, $1.00 per ton according to grade; Martin Howe Coal Co., $1.10; Dun Coal company, $1.19; Pioneer Coal company, $1.20, $1.23, $1.15, $1.35, $1.10, $1.40, $1.10 per ton, according to grade.

LITTLE BUT ROUTINE.

The regular Wednesday afternoon meeting of the city park board was called to order with practically nothing to do. Some small routine matters were on Secretary Steiss' schedule for the session and the prospect was for a very brief meeting.

THRONGS EAGER TO RETURN TO FIGHT

Austrians and Servians in America in Readiness to Go Back.

New York, July 29.—The consulates of Austria-Hungary and Servia in this city were busy places again today and at an early hour crowds of men capable of bearing arms filed their names with the consuls and secretaries in charge and promised to hold themselves in readiness to return to their native countries for military service.

At the Austria-Hungary consulate it was stated that in the event of a large number of reserves in this country being called upon for service steamships would be chartered by the government to transport them to Austria. How the Servian reservists would get back for military duty was a problem, it was said at the Servian consulate, that would be solved quickly when the time for action arrived.

A possible feature of the war, it was pointed out today, was the recruiting in this country of Macedonian reserves, who since the war with Turkey have come under Servian rule. It was asserted at the Servian consulate that the Macedonians would respond eagerly to the call of the Servian king.

A rumor current yesterday that the principal European powers likely to be involved in the Austro-Servian war had placed orders in this country for large quantities of coal for their navies was confirmed by leading coal exporters today. The possibility of Germany, Austria, Italy and France being shut off from the Welch coal supply by England being drawn into the controversy is held here to be responsible for the orders placed with American coal exporters.

CHICAGO RAISES FUNDS.

Chicago, July 29.—War funds raised at anti-Austrian meetings here last night were counted today and held in readiness to be used for the transportation of Servians, Coratians, Bohemians and other Slavs who wish to go to Europe to fight for Servia. Currency and pledges said to total more than $10,000 were raised at one meeting for the benefit of the Servian military hospital service. Intense feeling was shown. The Austrian double-headed eagle emblem was torn from the walls and trampled. The Slavic colony here is estimated at more than 50,000.

RIOTING AT LOS ANGELES.

Los Angeles, Cal., July 29.—Rioting broke out here early today in the portion of the city where Servians and Austrians reside. There was some shooting, but no one was found to have been injured by a bullet.

Police reserves suppressed the disturbances. Several Austrians were arrested.

SAYS HUSBAND DOES NOT LOVE

Nina M. Shaaf Charges Her Spouse With a Cruel Indifference.

In a divorce complaint filed in the superior court Nina M. Shaaf says her husband, Henry A. Shaaf, has always treated her cruelly and inhumanly in that he has never manifested toward her the love and attention due a wife from her husband, and always has been extremely indifferent to the welfare or comfort of the plaintiff and their children. He has given no attention to his household duties, as a husband and father, she says, and herself and children are neglected and uncared for, making conditions at home unbearable. She professes a fear of bodily harm from the defendant and Judge Ryan has issued an order to restrain him from molesting her in any way. She asks the custody of three children, aged 11, 10 and 8 years, with suitable provision for their support.

Says Husband is Drunkard.

Myrtle Arbuckle tells the superior court in a divorce complaint that her husband, Bert Arbuckle, is a drunkard, treats her in a manner both cruel and inhuman, has failed to provide for her needs and she wants to have done with him after a wedded life that began April 8, 1912, and ended July 28, 1914. Judge Ryan, in the superior court has issued an order to restrain the defendant from molesting her at her apartments in the Pixley-Long building, on East Berry street.

Notes of the Courts.

In the superior court Judge Ryan has dismissed the divorce suit of Cora Moon against Alfred Moon.

Ten minutes sufficed to present the testimony of the plaintiff in the case of Clara Beagles against Alfred Beagles in the superior court Tuesday afternoon, and Judge Ryan granted a decree. The pair have figured much in the courts during the past year, Mrs. Beagles prosecuting her husband for desertion and later for divorce, a former suit having been dismissed. Her maiden name, Clara Dunfee, was restored.

In the superior court the Grabill Lumber company has sued Benjamin Stuckey for the foreclosure of a mortgage, demanding $500.

Judgment for $900 has been given Henry B. Ness as administrator of the estate of Otto F. Ness, deceased, in a damage suit for $10,000 against the Fort Wayne and Northern Indiana Traction company. The suit was brought in the superior court. Otto Nees was a dairyman and was killed at the corner of Creighton and Fox avenues July 21, 1913, when his milk wagon was struck by a street car.

The will of the late Charles Prange, of Washington township, has been filed for probate. He leaves his estate equally to his six children.

In the will of Mrs. Jennie Wickliffe, widow of the late Michael Wickliffe, 1001 Columbia avenue, she leaves her estate to be divided equally between her sons, Thomas and Charles Clark.

He returned Tuesday evening from Indianapolis.

Heads Motorcyclists of United States.

A. B. COFFMAN.

A. B. Coffman, of Toledo, O., is the new president of the Federation of American Motorcyclists—and ten minutes after he was elected he was "on the job."

Members of the F. A. M. are looking to Mr. Coffman for great things during the coming year, for he is known as a hustler and as a man who gets results. Coffman is comparatively a young man but has had wide experience in business matters. He is expected to bring to the F. A. M. a period of real efficiency and economy during which the interests of motorcycling will be properly advanced and a better general understanding of the value and pleasure of the motorcycle will be given to the public in general.

Co-operation!

This is President Coffman's watchword. It is his platform. And he is going to stand on it and work from it during his administration. President Coffman has found co-operation to be one of the greatest forces in business and he intends to apply this modern business principle to the affairs of the F. A. M. He expects the active co-operation of each and every one of the F. A. M.'s great army of riders and he confidently expects that before the end of the year he will have an active, hustling organization in every state in the union.

President Coffman will make Toledo the headquarters of the federation, and says that not only is the federation going to "do things," but that as well it is going to let its thousands of members know what it is doing.

MITCHELL PICKS AXES FOR FIGHT

Frenchman Changed His Mind About Insult to His Honor.

New York, July 29.—Jim Mitchell, one of the greatest weight heavers that ever did any heaving, almost fought a duel once. It happened in Stockholm, Sweden, back in 1912, and the near-gory facts have just come to light.

Jim, who is a trifle larger than the Woolworth building, went over with the American contingent for the purpose of "covering" the contests for one of the American papers. Among Jim's duties was that of snap-shooting any important incidents of the doings.

It so happened that one afternoon Jim, who was in the second row in the grandstand, wanted to get a picture of the King of Sweden. An excited little Frenchman had the seat just in front of the huge Mitchell and everytime that Mitchell got the kingly form right in focus the Frenchman would bob back and forth and spoil the sight.

Mitchell endured the bobbing process in patience for more than a minute, and then, exasperated, he reached out with his huge left arm, picked the little Frenchman off his feet and tucked Frenchie in the hollow of left arm. Holding him this way with one arm, Mitchell was able to train the camera with his other hand and snap the king just as he was passing out of focus.

The picture taken, Mitchell extricated the Frenchman from under his arm and dropped him back into his seat. The Frenchman, without a word, scampered away from his seat and out of the stands. About 20 minutes later another Frenchman came along, sought out Mitchell, and shoved a card at him.

"What's this?" thundered Mitchell fingering the pasteboard which bore a French name.

"Eet ees zee name of zee gentleman you have insulted," replied the Frenchman. "His honaire has been insulted. He challenges zee to zee duel."

"Say, you don't mean that little jumping jack that sat in front of me, do you?" asked Mitchell, not being sure of the identity of the person whom he was supposed to have insulted.

"I mean, sir, zee grand gentleman who sat in zee seat in zee front of zee. I say, hees honaire has been insulted and you shall pay in zee duel."

"Oh, that's who you mean, eh," grinned Mitchell. "That little geezer! Say, are you his second?"

"I have zee great honaire, sir."

"Well, lookit here," said Mitchell. "I don't know much about this here duelling business—that is, the rules of the game. Tell me, who chooses the weapons."

"Zee gentleman who ees challenged makes zee choice," replied the Frenchman. "Een thees case, sir, you shall choose. Name zee weapons, sir, name zee weapons."

Mitchell stretched himself to his full height first, expanded his enormous chest, and then, leaning almost half way over so that he could get his lips close to the Frenchman's ear, he bellowed:

"Battle axes—battle axes, I choose battle axes, you little frogeater. Do we duel?"

They didn't.

MANAGER NEE IS OUT FOR SEASON

Here on First Trip Since Injury and Sees His Vets Win.

Manager Johnny Nee, whose battle with misfortune began just as soon as he entered upon duties that made him manager of the Dayton baseball club and also the youngest team pilot in Class B, is out for the remainder of the season but he came here with his Veteran troupe and saw it take Grover Cleveland Young down the line in the opening battle by a score of six to two.

The juvenile commander played a bit of hi-lo and "shagged" a few on the infield but his injured ankle is still badly swollen and so stiff he can not bend it. He has given up the hope of playing this year but draws consolation from the fact that while he was in the game he helped put his team out in front so far that there is no doubt it will win the pennant.

Young, who had shown excellent form for a few weeks, had one of those bad days that comes to the best of hurlers and his principal difficulty was lack of control. He went the limit on half the batters and forced himself to a three-and-two battle with Earl Sykes in the third inning and was unable to hold the last ball he pitched below the waist line and in the parlance of the pastime Mr. Sykes "combed" it.

By virtue of Martin's hit and a forced out by DeHaven, Spencer's hit to right with two gone and Meister's rap to left there were two Dayton runners on the paths when their first baseman got one just where he likes 'em. He landed on it and by the time it had bounced off the bricks on Clinton street he and a pair of his pards were well on the way to the counting station.

The game was a slow and uninteresting event. Two and a quarter hours were expended in bringing the argument to a close and most of this was due to the fact that the Vets were waiting 'em out at the plate and forcing Young to work. Umpire Ross got into an argument with Manager Harry Martin in the early part of the game and the home leader was chased from the coaching lines.

Phil Stremmel, whose pitching arm is kept in condition by reason of some expert massage work invented and applied by Mrs. Phil, had his whole pitching collection under command and by mixing a moist delivery with excellent control and a good curve, he held the Billikens safe at all stages.

Marcus Aurelius McLafferty had a red-letter day in the field. He handled seven chances in brilliant style and his play of Stremmel's grounder in the fourth was of the variety that made him popular on the Central league circuit.

Frankie Nespo also kicked in with a brilliant hit when he chucked Ward Clemens out at the plate in the ninth Spender hit over second and Nespo chased the ball down. Clemens thought he could score from second but the throw caught him before he hit the ground and he was outed.

"Dutch" Meister was also in with a queer play. He chased a fly that ordinarily would have been easy picking for him and dropped it. Smith, who hit the fly kept on going and reached second on the play. Meister muffed the ball, then picked it up and took a wild heave at second and gave the runner an extra base.

And this was not all. In the same inning Clemens fumbled McLafferty's easy grounder and Lee Hobbs took a bad throw on Brant's grounder, allowing Smith to complete the circuit on three errors. Brant's double in the eighth was responsible for the other run which Bratchi made after he had forced Holderman at second.

Meister redeemed himself later in the game by a good catch of Holderman's drive.

NOBODY AT HOME IN BRAIN CELLS

Kid McCoy Says the Boxer of the Present Day Does Not Think.

San Francisco, Cal., July 29.—"It's no use—they don't snap in that left hand like the old-timers. It's all brute strength now. They simply run in and batter away until one or the other happens to stop one with his jaw."

KID M'COY.

The speaker was Kid McCoy, inventor of the "corkscrew" punch, and in his day one of the craftiest middleweights of the prize ring.

"The trouble with the average modern boxer is that he DOES NOT THINK.

"Think of a boxer who is so set in his ideas that he knows how to box in one way only—the crouch.

"Now, the fact is that the crouch wasn't anything new when Jim Jeffries made it famous. Most all of us used it in the old days. I used it when I boxed Tommy Ryan.

"But I didn't box in a crouch with every man I met. If I had, one of those big fellows would have reached over and brought me to my knees with a whack on the back of the head.

"I used the crouch when facing opponents against whom I thought it would be effective. And if it didn't work, it took me only a round or so to find it out.

"Against real tall fellows we never used a crouch. We were shorter than they to begin with. Then what was the sense in making ourselves still shorter, if we expect to hit them above the neck?

"But I'll tell you what we always did do. We protected our jaws and ears with our shoulders. That's why you don't see the old fellows carrying around tin ears.

"Bob Fitzsimmons was an adept at protecting himself. Let fly a swing at him, and ninety-nine times out of a hundred your glove landed on one of those great freckled shoulders of his.

"But there was a great man. I consider Fitz the best fighter I ever knew.

"Jack Johnson! Not on your life. Fitz could have licked him with ease.

"I met Johnson in New York one day shortly before he got in his trouble which sent him to Europe.

"'Pretty easy for you, Jack,' I remarked, 'you haven't had any hard ones to go against.'

"'Ah guess dat's right, Kid,' he replied, 'dese boys is all duck soup.'

"And the 'big shine' was right," remarked McCoy. "To the old-timers all our modern middle and heavyweights look like 'duck soup.' They don't think."

EVERYTHING SET FOR BALL EVENT

Weather All That Could Be Asked and Sale of Tickets Good.

Everything was set Wednesday afternoon for the Claude H. Varnell day at the Fort Wayne baseball park and with a brand of weather the committee would probably have selected if the choice had been left to the members early indications pointed to a good-sized turn out of fandom.

Players of both teams were all keyed up for the going and, in spite of the fact that Dayton is way out in front with a lead that precludes any element of danger the men were just as anxious when they went on the field to win as if they had been fighting neck and neck for the wire.

A band concert enlivened the early events of the field sport program and was scheduled to supply music during the entire contest. The members of the booster committee continued their work today with a view of reaching the 2,000 mark.

Many of the tickets disposed of went in blocks and most all of them will probably be used between now and Sunday as Evansville follows Dayton and these clubs are holding the spotlight in the Central league at this time.

Bill Cramer was picked to pitch the game with Pete Fahrer, who has been sold to the Cincinnati club, as his opponent and with this pair going true to form an excellent entertainment was promised.

Dayton will finish its series here with a game tomorrow afternoon and will be followed by Manager Charles Knoll and his band of second placers. Mr. Varnell was highly pleased with the testimonial given him by the Fort Wayne fans and pleasantly surprised at the generous manner in which they came across for tickets.

MARSANS LOADED FOR COURT CASE

Alien Labor Law May Enter Into Hearing of His Case.

St. Louis, July 29.—The petition of the St. Louis Federal club to have dissolved the injunction against Armando Marsans, who jumped to the local team from the Cincinnati Nationals, was scheduled to be considered by Judge J. H. Trieber in the federal district court here today.

Marsans returned to St. Louis from Cuba, his native land, two days ago loaded with documentary evidence to be used in the case. Officials of the local Federal league club are so connident of victory in the legal battle that they have made it known that four players prominent in the major leagues are ready to emulate Marsans should the federal court give him the right to play with St. Louis.

It is understood that attorneys for the Federal league will try to break down the injunction by the counter charge that the Cincinnati club violated the alien labor law by bringing a foreigner to the United States under contract.

WAMBSGANSS TO CLEVELAND CLUB

Local Player Will Have Trial in the Big Show This Fall.

William Wambsganss, former Concordia college student and a son of Rev. Phillip Wambsganss, pastor of Emmaus Lutheran congregation, has been sold by the Cedar Rapids club to the Cleveland Americans and will be given the "once over" this fall by Manager Joe Birmingham.

Wambsganss, who carried with him into sports the nickname of "Goose," started his diamond work with the Concordia college baseball team and played also with the Fort Wayne Shamrocks, Columbia City, Warsaw and other small cities in the vicinity of Fort Wayne and after the school term of 1913 he joined the Cedar Rapids club.

He went to the team again this season and has evidently been putting up an excellent brand of baseball to attract the attention of the scouts. He is a young player and will likely need seasoning before he sticks permanently under the big top but that he is a good prospect is apparent or the scouts would not have bought him in these times of baseball warfare.

The announced price for the shortstop is $2,000 and two players, which is a pretty stiff figure under present conditions. Wambsganss was also a basket ball player on the college team and if he can make good he will be the second Concordia college student to go to the big leagues in the last few years, Max Carey having made the outfield for the Pittsburgh club.

SOX TO TOUR SOUTH AMERICA.

Chicago, July 29.—A tour of South America this coming winter by the Chicago American league team is contemplated by Charles A. Comiskey, owner of the club, it was made known today. Comiskey will probably try to arrange for the White Sox to be accompanied by the New York Nationals, although Comiskey would not state whether he and John McGraw, manager of the Giants, had discussed details. "I don't care whether the trip would pay or not," Comiskey said. "I want to show baseball to all the people of the earth. After South America it should be Africa and then we will have shown the sport to every one."

FIGHTING FOR DAVIS CUP.

Norman Brooks and Tony Wilding, Australian tennis champions, overwhelmed Canada's challengers for the Davis cup and now are the most dangerous of the challengers. The chances of the Australians capturing the honors in the elimination series are now bright and they are the probable opponents of Maurice McLoughlin and his American defenders of the cup. The play of the Australians at Onwentsia was the most brilliant seen in America in years and many fear they will carry the trophy back to the Antipodes.

MANY NOTABLES AT WINONA LAKE

Friends Conference Brings Influx of Interesting Visitors.

Winona Lake, Ind., July 29.—Among the persons of distinction who are attending the Young Friends Conference at Winona is Rev. Charles Woodman, who is pastor of the Friends church at Portland, Maine. He has taken a prominent part on the program during the past week and has made many friends on the grounds.

Rev. R. S. Rice is another of the interesting characters connected with this conference. He has spent a number of years in Mexico where he has done missionary work under the auspices of the Friends church. The secretary, Miss Lillian E. Hayes, reports that this conference has been one of the most interesting and profitable ever held. Inasmuch as Winona is their permanent meeting place they have made definite arrangement for their return to Winona next year.

Rev. Charles Stelzle was at Winona yesterday and has entered into a contract with Dr. Dickey to be present and deliver his popular lecture along sociological lines at the Bible Conference next month. Rev. Stelzle was superintendent of the department of immigration from 1908 to 1910 and also gave his services in connection with Labor Temple of New York for a number of years where he was dean of the social service department of Men and Religion Forward Movement. He has been actively engaged among foreign speaking people under the auspices of the New York Presbytery. Among his well known books are "The Workingman and Social Problems," "Boys of the Street and How to Win Them," and "Christianity's Storm Center." The addition of Dr. Steizle to the Winona Bible Conference will add great value to it.

Rev. Edward L. Buchanan, of Garrett, was at Winona last Monday. He is the owner of the Buchanan cottage on Fifteenth street and in former years assisted the Winona management in the real estate and other departments.

Rev. Martin Anstey, M. A., who is delivering a series of lectures in Moody Bible Institute at Raike's hall this week, is an Englishman and his home is in London. He is superintendent of city missions in the great metropolis and assisted Dr. G. Campbell Morgan in Westminster Bible college. He came across the water thirty days ago to lecture before the students of the Moody Institute at Chicago and has stopped at Winona on his return trip. His book, "The Romance of Bible Chronology," has attracted wide attention among Bible students. He is accompanied by Mrs. Anstey, and they are stopping at the Winona hotel while here.

Dr. J. C. Breckenridge spent last Sunday at Rochester, Ind., where he occupied the pulpit of the First Presbyterian church.

Rev. George E. Guille, who is one of the teachers in the Bible school at Raikes hall, left for Erieside, O., last Monday to lecture before a conference held at that place. He will fill a lecture engagement at Franklin, Ind., after which he will return to Winona for the remainder of the season.

The Rogers Winona band arrived at the park Monday evening. George V. Roscoe, the director of the band, says he hopes to satisfy the people of Winona in the concerts that will be given by his band and orchestra this season. Among his players is Hayden Sheperd, who has traveled all over the northern states as the greatest boy cornetist in the country. His superb playing interests people everywhere and Mr. Roscoe says he will spring many surprises on his audiences here. Mr. Sheperd plays the cello in the Rogers orchestra and his performances on this instrument are no less astonishing than with the cornet. He is eighteen years old. Another conspicuous character in this musical organization is George W. Curtis, a baritone of unusual accomplishments. He has played with the famous Sousa band and also the Inness band. He is a strong spirit of the organization that has come to Winona.

Miss Ella E. Pohle will be the lecturer at the 8:30 morning hour at Raikes hall this week. Her theme will be "Dispensational Bible Study."

Mrs. Lucretia Albertson, of Wolcott, N. Y., arrived at Winona yesterday and will occupy her cottage, the Van Ness.

A special feature of music will be introduced at the mid-week service at Raikes hall Thursday evening at 7 o'clock. Master Roy Stevens, of Fort Wayne, the boy soprano, will sing a solo. He is eleven years old and is possessed of peculiar sweetness and musical quality.

Miss Ruby Miner, a teacher in the primary department at Muncie, has organized a children's story-telling hour. Meetings are held at 11 o'clock every day at Science hall, and a general invitation is extended to the children of the park to attend. Miss Miner is stopping at the Elkhart and will be glad to meet any persons who are interested in the special work she represents.

Woman's Duty to Herself.

Every woman owes it to herself to keep in good health. No one can reasonably be expected to maintain a cheerful disposition when half sick. Indigestion and constipation are two of the most common ills to which women are subject and fortunately are easily cured. Mrs. H. C. Getty, Indiana, Pa., writes, "Last summer I was advised by a friend to try Chamberlain's Tablets for indigestion and constipation. This medicine not only cured me of these disorders but toned up my whole system so that my health has been better than for years since taking them." For sale by all dealers.

Congress of Old Ladies Wednesday, August 5

Seventy-seven old Ladies, ranging in age from 75 to 90 years, registered in the Congress of Old Ladies at Robison Park last year. Massed together in one group, they presented an inspiring sight. Feeble, careworn and seared with the trials of many summers and with the hardships of many winters, they bore mute testimony of unseen battles, successfully fought against sickness, misfortune and untold discouragement. 5,000 women attended Women's Day last year. By their very presence they paid a glowing tribute to the 77 old ladies whose combined ages totaled over 6,000 years. Many who sat in the Congress in 1913 will be absent from the roll call on August 5th, because they have passed to the Great Beyond. Mrs. Amanda Rose, age 91, the oldest woman present last Women's Day writes that she is planning to come to the Congress this year. "It was the grandest day of my life," she says, "and I felt just like Queen Victoria." Mrs. Rose will ride in the carriage with the oldest woman present this year. They will be the Park's guests of honor. Jos. Weick, popular livery man of 1017 Hanna Street will have his finest coach and pair at the Park on Women's Day, so that the Park's guests may be driven about the grounds. Let everyone present show them marked respect.

TO BANISH WRINKLES AND FRESHEN UP QUICKLY

After a strenuous day outdoors, when winds, heat and exhaustion have combined to take away one's freshness and caused the skin to wrinkle and sag—or after a tedious or fretful day indoors—one often has urgent need for some quick rejuvenator. Maybe there's a tango party on for the evening, or some other social event. How in the world can one make herself presentable, looking as she does? It's quite easy.

Just get an ounce of powdered saxolite and a half pint witch hazel at the nearest drug store, mix the two and bathe the face in the solution for two or three minutes. Then look into your mirror and behold the wonderful transformation! Wrinkles have vanished, loose, tired muscles have been rested and "firmed up," marks of fatigue have flown, and you look so much brighter and younger you can hardly believe your eyes. No one need hesitate to try this, the witch hazel and saxolite being so perfectly harmless.

TRUCK COLLAPSES AT WHEELER

Ten Cars Derailed and the Nickel Plate Blocked for Several Hours.

The Nickel Plate tracks were completely blocked for several hours this morning by the derailment of ten cars, following a broken down truck. The train was No. 55, westbound, and the accident happened at Wheeler, a small station near the Illinois state line. It is understood that none of the trainmen was hurt and the property loss is not very great. On account of the blockade eastbound train No. 2 made a detour via the Pennsylvania lines. The wreckage was picked up and the tracks opened to traffic at 12 o'clock today.

MAY LOCATE IN KENDALLVILLE.

August Bowser Makes Proposition to That City.

According to the Kendallville paper, representatives of August Bowser have made a proposition to establish a factory in that city for the manufacture of oil supply tanks and other products on which Mr. Bowser has patents. The proposition submitted by Mr. Bowser, according to the Kendallville News, is that the citizens of that city subscribe for $25,000 worth of stock and donate three acres of ground. The company is to be capitalized at $100,000, the Bowser people to have $51,000 of the stock. The company will pay the stockholders 10 per cent. for five years and Mr. Bowser will not ask for dividends during the first five years, nor for any salary, other than commission from the sale of the tanks. The company also agrees to select four of the seven directors from the Kendallville stockholders as well as the vice-president, assistant secretary, treasurer and two or three members of the executive board. The company also agrees to employe twenty-five men in the start. An investigating committee is coming to Fort Wayne this week to inspect the products of the company and the patterns of the patents.

SOLDIERS GOING WEST.

Special Train Over the Wabash Carrying Big Party.

A special train, running as the second section of the Wabash Continental limited, passed through Fort Wayne at 3 o'clock this afternoon, carrying a regiment of United States infantry. The soldiers came from one of the eastern barricks and are bound for Kansas City. They were turned over to the Wabash by the Lake Shore at Toledo.

DEMAND FOR STEAM DREDGES.

Evidently the financial or business depression that is supposed to be in existence at present does not affect the manufacture of dredges, for the American Steel Dredge company has more work than it can handle and has placed some of the work with other establishments. The Western Gas Construction company is building two large steel boats for the Dredge company, while the latter works are running the largest force in their history over time. Most of the orders for dredges came from the south, where an unusual number of improvements are in progress this summer. The company is about to place on the market a new type of revolving steam shovel, similar in some respects to the shovel now being used in excavation work at the new theater on Clinton street. Secretary J. D. Rauch, of the American Steel Dredge company, left today for the east in the interest of the company. Assistant Secretary Paul J. Knothe has just returned from a similar trip through the southern states.

WAS A PROFITABLE DEAL.

The treasury of the Mutual Benefit association of the Fort Wayne Electric works was enriched in the sum of $319.80 by the excursion to Cedar Point last Saturday. This is over $200 less than the excursion to that point a year ago yielded, but the conditions are vastly different in the shops and elsewhere among the people who patronize excursions and the men whose energy and push made the recent excursion what it was are satisfied. It has been said that no other parties could work up so big a crowd for an outing from Fort Wayne these dull times, and the men back of the recent excursion are receiving praise from all sides.

TO EXTERMINATE RATS.

Col. J. M. Arnold, general agent for the C., H. & D. road at Cincinnati for thirty years, now retired, has been appointed official rat killer and now travels from city to city on the road, innoculating the rodents with a Pasteur virus which is deadly to rats, but harmless to other animals. "When one rat has been caught and given the virus treatment," Colonel Arnold explains, "we allow him to escape. The virus takes the form of a fatal and extremely contagious disease and soon all the rats in the neighborhood are infected and die."

SEPTEMBER 17 NICKEL PLATE DAY.

Thursday, September 17, will be Nickel Plate day at the Fort Wayne fair and District Passenger Agent F. P. Parnum this morning was advised that two special trains would be operated from the west on that date. One will have eight coaches and a baggage car, will start from Hammond and arrive here at 10:40 o'clock. The other will have twelve coaches and a baggage car, will start from Knox and arrive here at 8:35 o'clock in the morning. Last year similar trains brought in over 1,000 people.

SLIGHT IMPROVEMENT IN BUSINESS.

The Barney and Smith car shops at Dayton, Ohio, which have been running short hours and with reduced forces, are receiving some orders for cars and have been asked to make an estimate upon others, included being 1,000 box cars for the Cincinnati, Hamilton and Dayton road, now in the hands of receivers. The company this week booked an order for 500 cars, which will cost $500,000, from the New York Central company.

NEW TERMINAL AT CLEVELAND.

The Nickel Plate has in contemplation the building of new freight terminals at Cleveland that will give that line the only down town freight yards on the city level. All the freight depots in the down town section are now on a level with the Cuyahaga river and freight must be hauled up the hills at a great cost. The Nickel Plate's plan will give the business houses and commission houses a railroad right at their back door, particularly on Broadway and Woodland streets. The property necessary for this improvement will cost $400,000 and the buildings $100,000.

TAKING ANNUAL VACATION.

Assistant Tranmaster Ed M. Reese, of the Pennsylvania, accompanied by Mrs. Reese and their two children, left this morning for St. Joseph and Benton Harbor, where they will spend two weeks. Mr. Reese is taking his annual vacation.

WAS BADLY SUNBURNED.

Neal Dailey, an apprentice at the Pennsylvania machine shop, was able to report for duty this morning. While at Rome City a week or so ago, he had one of his arms badly sunburned and the wound became infected from ivy, and swelled to three times its normal size. All danger from further trouble has passed, though the arm is still sire.

WELCH SINGERS GO WEST.

GOING INTO BUSINESS.

O. E. Benson is preparing to engage in the meat business at Noblesville, Ind. He resigned his position at the Pennsylvania blacksmith shop, where he worked over two years, this morning, and will leave in a day or two for Noblesville.

READY FOR CONCRETE WORK.

The carpenters will complete the forms for the abutments at the Harrison street subway, under the Wabash road, tonight and tomorrow the concrete mixers will commence "pouring" for the abutments. The foundations for the abutments were put in several days ago.

REMARKABLE RECORD OF SAFETY.

Pennsylvania lines east of Pittsburgh have not had a train accident in which a passenger was killed in two years, and during that period the company carried 161,000,000 passengers.

WILL ENTERTAIN HIS FRIENDS.

Herman Schlink is preparing for a blow-out in celebration of his wedding, the event to take place Sunday, August 6. Because their train was stalled on a street crossing during a terrific rain storm at Huntington last Friday, an Erie train crew was arrested on complaint filed by a half dozen men who were thoroughly soaked while waiting to cross the tracks. The cases came before Judge A. J. Rosebrough, who decided for the defendants, alleging that the blocking of the street was an accident to the air brakes for which the crew was not responsible.

CHARGES PAYMENT TO PREMIER

Graft Allegation Comes Up in Royal Commission Inquiry.

St. John, N. B., July 29.—An alleged payment of $9,000 to Provincial Premier Flemming was described by John Kennedy, of Woodstock, a railway contractor, at the resumption by a royal commission today of the charges of extortion in connection with the building of the St. John Valley railway.

"You have a right to help us out with some money," said Flemming, according to the witness, who added that the following day he drew $2,000 from the bank and handed it personally to the premier, who had called at his office. Kennedy said that he understood the payment was for campaign purposes. Premier Flemming is conservative leader in New Brunswick.

The Amazon valley in the first three months of 1914 exported 29,268,477 pounds of crude rubber.

A Tribute.

Though the midnight blackness of your one-time raven hair has changed to snow-white yet we would not lose one silvery ray of your white locks.

To All Old Ladies.

They say that old folks love to live
in days long passed away,
And find their sweetest comfort in some
misty yesterday;
But somehow I don't recollect a lot of
previous things
Since all the youngsters went away and
Mary's soul took wings.
It seems when I get thinking, that the past is like a lane
Of brown, old lilac bushes that can never bloom again:
Or like some old, deserted church
where once I heard a song—
Life seems so different, somehow, when you're lingering along."
I'm blessed with every comfort that a
lonesome soul could know,
And children grown to manhood that would hate to see me go;
They put me on a sort of throne and treat me like a queen
And all the hardships of old age the children try to screen.
But young friends are not old friends,
and the friends I used to know
Are sleeping 'neath the blossoms or the softly falling snow.
I want to leave the youngsters to their
roses and their song,
Life seems so different, somehow, when you're lingering along."

THE MARKETS

WHEAT PRICES GO UP.

War Scare Is Direct Cause of the Raise Says Dealer In the Grain.

Wheat prices took a jump of seven cents in the last two days and dealers today are paying 82 cents for the grain. Upon being asked as to the cause a dealer said that the only cause he knew of was the war scare in the old country. The prices in this country he said were lower than they were the first of the week but the prices had gone up across the ocean.

Potatoes are going lower every day and the home grown ones are retailing at 80 to 90 cents a bushel and imported ones are bringing $1.00, which is a very moderate price for this time of the year. The egg market is very dull but prices were a trifle lower Wednesday morning than they were Tuesday. The quality is still poor and commission men are complaining of the great amount of spoiled ones.

The city scale master reports a total of 31 loads of hay and grain weighed at the scales Wednesday morning. No old hay has been on market for the past week but there is a good supply of new hay which is bringing the farmer $11.00 to $14.00 a ton.

CHICAGO GRAIN AND PROVISIONS.

Chicago, July 29.—Brakes were clamped down hard today on the wheat market as a result of commission houses demanding almost prohibitive margins on all trades. The consequent restriction of business naturally put the bulk of trade into the hands of dealers inclined to conservative views and there was a decided reaction from yesterday's violent advance.

Country holders freely accepted bids from here for wheat and this fact led to a stoppage of export demand and caused prices to fall. The opening was ⅞c to ¾c down and was followed by numerous rallies, but none more than half complete and not any of a lasting sort.

The close was weak at 3⅝c to 4 c down as compared with last night.

Corn showed some firmness at the outset but soon followed wheat down grade. After opening ⅛c off to ½c up, the market dropped to about a cent under last night and displayed but little power to recover.

The close was steady at the same as last night to ⅜c off.

Oats, like corn, developed comparative strength at first but the collapse of wheat checked buying. The result was a set back though not so pronounced as in corn.

Weakness effected provisions when grain failed to advance. Moderate upturns were quickly more than wiped out.

THE DAY ON WALL STREET.

New York, July 29.—Tense excitement and wild trading attended the early tradings on the stock exchange today. Advices from abroad were again of an alarming character with heavy losses in such American stocks as were quoted by the London stock exchange. Initial losses here ran from 3 to 5 points in many of the better known securities, including Great Northern, Reading, Amalgamated Copper, Utah Copper, Anaconda, St. Paul Consolidated Gas and Soo. Canadian Pacific, the weakest of the high grade issues recently opened at an advance. Steel, which was traded in in lots of 2,000 to 5,000 shares, opened with a decline of 1¾. A rally of 1 to 2 points ensued under the lead of Union Pacific, Southern Pacific and St. Paul. The output of stock was so large that no bond transactions were recorded in the first 30 minutes.

An early rally followed the early demoralization, some stocks, notably Southern Pacific, selling above yesterday's close. The movement had all indications of substantial banking support together with extensive investment purchases by so-called bargain hunters. Canadian Pacific's gain of 4¾ points was ascribed to direct buying by Berlin, where conditions were much improved. At the end of the first hour in which trading assumed the enormous total of 840,000 shares, over a score of issues had registered complete recovery.

The rally of the first half hour gained greater headway, leading stocks effacing all losses with a number of material gains. Canadian Pacific rose almost five points with recoveries of 2 to 4 points in Reading, Great Northern, Union Pacific, Southern Pacific, Northern Pacific, Amalgamated and Smelting. Absence of further gold exports also contributed to the improved tone. The most wholesome feature of the local situation was the evidence of investment purchases on a scale not witnessed here in several years. Bonds were weak.

Speculation became almost buoyant in the closing hour. Early losses of 2 to 5 points were converted into gains of similar proportions. Profit taking caused some shading from the top level toward the end.

From a feverish and much lower opening, today's market changed its course in short order to one of active strength and many net gains due to extensive buying by investors. The closing was active

NEW YORK TO BE DOGLESS CITY.

New Rule Will Drive Canines From Metropolis Eventually.

New York, July 29.—Because of the large number of cases of rabies reported in the past few weeks, the department of health today announced adoption of an amendment to the sanitary code, providing that unmuzzled dogs shall not be permitted on any public highway or in any public park or place in the city at any time of the year. Under the old rulings of the department it was unlawful to have dogs on the streets or in public places without a muzzle or lesh in the months of June, July, August and September. Officials of the health department expressed the opinion that under the new rules New York would eventually become a dogless city.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

COP AND BOOZE MERCHANT MIX

Officer Collins Breaks His Hand on Ed Siekmeier's Countenance.

Ed Siekmeier, proprietor of the Bismarck saloon, 1030 Calhoun street, was arraigned in the city Wednesday morning on a charge of disorderly conduct and exhibited a countenance that looked war-worn. Night Patrolman Collins testified against Siekmeier and he displayed a right hand in splints and bandages. The conclusion that Siekmeier's countenance and Collins' hand had had recent and somewhat violent intimacies was not difficult to reach, for the logic of appearances was strong and the results obvious. Moreover, Collins admitted his part in it and Siekmeier said it was all too true. The nature of the proceedings and the manner of war were subjects of a divided account of the incident. Collins said he found the hall door of Siekmeier's saloon open and walked down to the saloonist's residence on Harrison street, between Berry and Wayne and notified him. He says Siekmeier turned in and abused him roundly, whereat he used his fist in giving the liquor dealer a right trouncing. Siekmeier says Collins used a "blackjack" on him and later used his fist, all without provocation and solely because of a grudge growing out of alleged delinquencies of the officer. Siekmeier's attorney put the officer through a redhot grilling on cross-examination. Judge Kerr took the case under advisement until Thursday morning. Siekweier was arrested a few weeks ago on a charge of malicious trespass for throwing a brick through a window at the home of his brother on East Jefferson street. He later paid a fine on pleading guilty to a drunk charge.

Other City Court Cases.

George Brown and Tom Conners, two men arrested at pawnshop on East Main street, where they were trying to secure money on a valuable gold watch, were sent to jail in default of $50 bond to await hearing on August 1 on vagrancy charges. Their stories as told to Detective Sergeant William F. Pappert and later to the court did not match well. They will be investigated. Conners has been in Fort Wayne heretofore.

Stanley Shubinski and Adam Wasski, two Polish laborers, were continued until August 5 on charges of disorderly conduct. They had a fight at the corner of Wallace street and Wessier Park avenue.

Owen Morney, drunk, said when arrested that he was sick and that moreover he had been robbed of $25. He was continued until Thursday and sent to jail in default of bond. Adam Werner and Abe Hyrontz, two loiterers picked up at Nickel Plate tracks and Jackson street, where Morney was found, were suspected of possible connection with Morney's experience with robbers, but a hearing exculpated them and they were turned loose.

LeRoy Ward, charged with horse-stealing, was allowed to go, the state moving dismissal of the charge.

The case against George Beck, charged with neglecting a child, was also dismissed by the prosecutor.

Frank Runion, a drunk, was given eleven days. He said he had been sick and an overdose of booze had put him down and out.

KEPT THEM ALL GUESSING.

But "Uncle Ike" Stephenson Will Not Again Be Candidate.

Marinette, Wis., July 29.—Definite announcement was made today by United States Senator Isaac Stephenson that he would not be a candidate for re-election.

DEAFENING DIN GREETS VERDICT

Acquittal of Mme. Caillaux is Followed by Wild Demonstration.

Paris, July 29.—Mme. Henrietta Caillaux was last night acquitted by a jury in the Court of Assize of the wilful murder on March 16 last of Gaston Chalmette, editor of the Figaro.

The verdict was returned after fifty minutes' deliberation. The announcement was followed by the wildest tumult.

Mme Caillaux staggered and then threw her arms about the neck of her counsel, Fernand Labori. Her hair was undone, falling over her shoulders, and her hat dropped to the floor. The spectators stood upon desks and chairs. "Caillaux! Labori!" and cries of "Caillaux! Assassin!" merged into one.

The din was deafening. Several groups of barristers came to blows and the republican guards, in an endeavor to separate them, joined in the melee. The spectacle of Laabori and Chenu, the latter counsel for the Calmette family, embracing each other calmed the tumult for a moment, but it was redoubled when they left with Mme. Caillaux.

Failing to make himself heard, the presiding judge, followed by the other judges, marched out of the room. The advocates took complete possession of the court; some of them mounted the judges' desks and harangued the crowd. The guards then cleared a portion of the room and comparative quiet was restored. Judge Albanel then returned and read the judgment, ordering the release of Mme. Caillaux.

Shaken with emotion, Mme. Caillaux left by the witnesses' door, the guards making a lane through the crowd.

She covered her face with her hands, as if to shield herself from the furious cries of "Murderess." By way of a number of narrow corridors and back staircases she reached a small side door in the palace of justice, where an automobile was waiting, and drove off unobserved.

M. Caillaux left by the main entrance on the arm of his devoted friend, Deputy spectacle of Labori and Chenu, the latand hoots.

Thus ended the most sensational trial with which Parisian courts have had to deal in years. Each day provided its dramatic thrill, and, though the verdict has been pronounced, the outcome can not be foretold.

Cannon Seeks Return to Congress From Danville District.

Danville, Ill., July 29.—Joseph G. Cannon, former speaker of the national house, made formal announcement here today of his candidacy for representative from the Eighteenth congressional district. His announcement reads in part: "I had not sought the nomination and so told the committee, but after consultation I agreed to become a candidate, subject to the primary election to be held on the 9th day of September. I therefore formally announce my candidacy. If nominated I will make a vigorous campaign for my election. If another republican shall be chosen I will make a vigorous campaign for his election."

Police Dog Latest Fad in New York

Mrs. R. Ware

New York, July 28.—It's not that society women have lost confidence in the police force, but big, ugly dogs have become fashionable, and that's why almost every fashionable woman who promenades 5th avenue these days is guarded by a "police dog."

Mrs. Richard Ware, who has just returned from Europe, brought with her as one of many trophies of travel a big, savage-looking Belgian "police dog." It's a bold highwayman that will attempt to molest Mrs. Ware when Prinz is on police duty.

COAL CAUGHT ON FIRE.

Two Engine Companies Respond to Alarm at Noon.

The motor chemical and engine companies 3 and 5 of the city fire department responded to an alarm sent in at 11:15 o'clock calling them to the barn at the rear of 433 Brackenridge street, where a bin of coal caught fire in some manner and sent out dense clouds of smoke. The fire was quickly extinguished without much damage to the property.

SERVIAN CAPITAL IS BOMBARDED

AUSTRIAN GUNS HURL FIRE INTO BELGRADE

Bridge Over River Save is Blown Up as Cannons Roar in First Engagement of the War.

EUROPE WATCHES GERMANY AND RUSSIA

St. Petersburg, July 29.—A despatch from Belgrade says the Servian capital has been bombarded and the bridge over the Save blown up.

WATCH GERMANY AND RUSSIA.

All Europe Massing Armies in Stragetic Positions.

London, July 29.—Reports of the massing of armies in strategic positions came from all points of Europe today, but no actual clash of opposing forces was registered. Diplomats concentrated their attention on efforts to confine the war to Austria-Hungary and Servia the two nations immediately concerned in the quarrel, and the attitude of the German and Russian emperors was closely watched, owing to their new relations to the countries engaged.

Premier Asquith referred to the international situation in the house of commons, but all the information he was able to impart was contained in a few words. "The situation at this moment," he said, "is one of extreme gravity, and I can only usefully say that the British government is not relaxing its efforts to do everything in its power to circumscribe the area of conflict. The British government has received no information as to an alleged revolutionary outbreak in Russia."

The March of Troops.

Austria-Hungary and Servia resounded today with the march of troops towards positions of attack and defense, while military aviators on both sides flitted through the air along the frontiers in an effort to discover their opponents positions.

No idea of the plan of campaign could be obtained by the general public owing to the rigidity of the censorship in regard to military movements. It was known that the Austria-Hungarian government had requisitioned the entire train service and that private transportation in the dual monarchy had ceased. It was gleaned from dispatches from Servian points that the Bosnian frontier was looked upon as the most likely point of attack of the Austrian troops and thither the soldiers of King Peter were hurried in great numbers. The Montenegrin soldiery evidently preparing to support their brother serbs, also concentrated along the Bosnian frontier.

The stock exchanges everywhere in Europe were demoralized and where they were not closed they were almost at a standstill. David Lloyd George, British chancellor of the exchequer today made the financial tranquilizing statement that the Bank of England saw nothing in the present financial situation to make it necessary to call a meeting of bankers to deal with it.

Troop Movements Continue.

In the meantime dispatches from Vienna showed that the movement of the Austrian forces toward the Servian frontiers was proceeding steadily, but a strict censorship concerning the military movements prevented the exact destination of troops from reaching the outside world. All the Austrian and Hungarian railways were taken over

Varied Moves Today on War Chessboard

Berlin, July 29.—Emperor William today sent to Emperor Nicholas, of Russia, a telegram concerning the international crisis. The message crossed on its way to St. Petersburg a similar telegram from Nicholas to Emperor William.

London, July 29.—Partial mobilization of the Russian troops in the southern and southwestern districts was ordered by the Russian war office last night, according to dispatches received here.

Brussels, July 29. The Belgian cabinet decided today to call out immediately three classes of the army reserves.

Portland, Eng., July 29. -The British fleet sailed from here today for an unknown destination. No information could be obtained from naval officials as to the movements of the war vessels.

Paris, July 29.—The Temps says Russia was officially informed about half-past twelve this afternoon that Austria-Hungary would respect the territorial integrity of Servia and wishes even to abstain from occupying Belgrade, the Servian capital.

WILSON KEEPING IN CLOSE TOUCH

European War Situation Draws Keen Interest in Washington.

Washington, July 29.—President Wilson kept closely informed of the war situation today through reports from American diplomats abroad, but there was no change in the attitude of mere observation.

Secretary Redfield indicated to the white house today he had no fear that a war in Europe would have any serious effect on conditions in the United States. It was the belief of officials that although prices of food stuffs might go up in this country, general business conditions resulting from the demand for American products abroad would offset it.

Diplomatic dispatches from Vienna brought the first official news to the state department of Austria-Hungary's declaration of war against Servia. But in making the announcement Secretary Bryan said that Ambassador Penfield had not yet transmitted to the department any formal announcement from the Austrian foreign office that a state of war exists between the two countries.

The international relief board of the American Red Cross today decided to announce that the society would receive and forward contributions for relief to the Austrian and Servian Red Cross society as designated by contributors. All Red Cross chapters in the United States are being notified.

HARRISON IS NOW SEGREGATION FOE

Chicago Mayor Admits His Change of Opinion on Vice Question.

Chicago, July 29.—"Segregation means protected vice and corruption of officials," Mayor Carter H. Harrison was reported today as declaring in his fishing camp in Michigan. "I have reached the conclusion," he said, "that my ideas on the vice question have been wrong. I have no hesitation now in subscribing to the general indictment of the segregation plan. Its worst aspect is the corrupting influence it exercises over the entire law enforcing arm of the government. Commercialized vice is a crime and the only remedy is repression. The policeman who takes graft from protected vice will soon be taking it from pickpockets and burglars.

"Chicago is through with the segregated vice idea. We can never entirely eliminate prostitution in any large city. But we can drive it under cover and we can make it unprofitable for those who would capitalize the weakness of others. Segregation is a farce. The city cannot go into partnership with such a business."

HAVE REACHED AN AGREEMENT

Carranza and Carbajal in Accord on Settlement in Mexico.

NEW STEP TOWARD PEACE IS TAKEN

Deal With Zapata's Forces Also Only Awaits Ratification.

Washington, July 29.—General Carranza and provisional President Carbajal have agreed on a basis for the arrangement of peace in Mexico, according to a message received here today by Jose Castellot, personal representative of Carbajal.

Mr. Castellot showed Secretary Bryan his latest advices from Mexico City, which stated that General Villa and Justice Allende, Carbajal's two delegates to Carranza have been instructed to carry out in detail the general basis of peace "already agreed upon." That was interpreted by Mr. Castellot to mean that through diplomatic channels and through Reginaldo Cepeda, advance delegate to the Carbajal government now with General Carranza, a definite understanding has been reached for a peaceful transfer of the government at Mexico City to the constitutionalists.

With respect to amnesty and guarantees, General Carranza, it is understood, will promise immunity to all except those directly responsible for the overthrow of Madero. Practically all these said to be guilty have fled Mexico and that exception will not be opposed by the Carbajal government.

It is expected that within a few days the Carbajal delegation will have worked out the details of an agreement. Diplomats here expect that one of the first questions will be on recognizing the protocols, signed at Niagara Falls between the United States and the Huerta government. Approval of these by the constitutionalists probably would mean recognition by the United States, Argentina, Brazil and Chile.

An agreement by which Zapata's forces are to co-operate with the constitutionalists in restoring peace throughout Mexico has been arranged by delegates and now only requires the signatures of Carranza and Zapata before being made public.

CRACK SWIMMERS IN COMPETITION

Twelve Events Feature the Opening Program at Indianapolis.

Indianapolis, Ind., July 29.—Twelve events were on the program for the first day of the three days' swimming meet, which opens here today under the auspices of the Central Amateur Athletic union. More than 125 of the best swimmers of the country have entered.

In accordance with the ruling of James E. Sullivan, president of the amateur athletic union barring women from participation in the meet events for women have been stricken from the program, but will be conducted as a special attraction at the close of each day. To avoid infringement of Mr. Sullivan's order a separate list of officials will conduct the event for the women, a number of whom have entered.

Included in the events today are: 50-yard wash, 100-yard dash, 440-yard dash, 150-yard back stroke, plunge for distance and fancy diving. A number of medals and trophies have been offered to the winners in the meet.

MR. WARBURG HAS DECIDED TO COME

New York Banker Will See Senate Committee on His Nomination.

Washington, July 29.—President Wilson today received a telegram from Paul M. Warburg, of New York, saying he had practically decided to come to Washington to confer with the senate banking committee on his nomination as a member of the federal reserve board.

Although the telegram didn't state in terms that Mr. Warburg would come, white house officials said they considered the question closed and that Mr. Warburg would appear in the near future. After the receipt of the telegram Mr. Warburg had a long distance telephone talk with Secretary Tumulty and said he had found his talk with Senator Hitchcock very satisfactory and that he saw no reason why he should not confer with the committee. No time has been set for Mr. Warburg to come to Washington. Chairman Owen also stated he received a telegram from Mr. Warburg in which the banker stated that he thought his appearance could be "agreeably arranged."

The president today had not decided whom to appoint to the vacancy caused by the withdrawal of the nomination of Thomas D. Jones, of Chicago.

President Holds Another Conference With Varied Interests.

IS URGED TO PUSH TRUST LAWS AHEAD

Hugh Chalmers Says Uncertainty is Greatest Trouble.

Washington, July 29.—President Wilson held another conference today on business conditions and the pending trust bills with a delegation of business men representing varied interests throughout the country.

A delegation of wholesalers presented a brief opposing the "exclusive agency" features of the Clayton bill and several sections of the trade commission bill. They told Mr. Wilson that they approved of the pending legislation in a general way and thought it necessary to prevent unfair competition, but feared some of its features would seriously interfere with business organizations operating on a small scale.

For more than half an hour the president and the business men had a detailed discussion. Mr. Wilson explained his view of the purposes of the legisla-

DOCTOR DID NOT REPORT ON DEATH

Relatives of Railroad Accident Victim Want an Investigation.

Relatives of the late Bert Kunselman, who died June 25 at St. Joseph's hospital in this city, after having been injured June 24 near Hoagland on the Grand Rapids & Indiana railroad, have communicated with authorities in Fort Wayne and with Attorney George Yaple, asking that an investigation be conducted to determine the exact cause of the man's death.

The case was not reported to Coroner E. H. Kruse and he stated Wednesday that the physician who attended the man would be punished, if possible, for failing to make a report on the case, as it was his second similar offense.

Dr. Kruse consulted with the railway officials and was told that all they knew about the affair was that Kunselman was injured while riding on a speeder which jumped the track, and died here the following day. The coroner will conduct a careful investigation of the circumstances.

FORT WAYNE CHILDREN ENJOYING OUTING AT CROOKED LAKE AS THEIR FIRST EXPERIENCE OF THE KIND.

Cleanly and neatly dressed, bubbling over with anticipation of an outing at Crooked lake, through the good offices of Mr. and Mrs. Guy Gilbert and Mr. and Mrs. Al Swanger, this group of Fort Wayne children was snapped as the party arrived in Mr. Gilbert's automobile at the Lake Shore depot. Visions of a stay at the lake made it difficult to keep the members of the party posed for a picture as they considered that the least important part of the proceeding. These youngsters could not have had the benefit of the outing but for the kindness of the four people most interested and they conducted their plans quietly and publicity was forced upon them rather than sought.

Quit Fort Wayne; Rush to Scenes of Conflict

Twelve foreigners, natives of Servia, Austria-Hungary and Greece visited the foreign exchange department at the First National bank Wednesday morning seeking information regarding shipping possibilities to their separate countries and instructing Harry Orr, in charge of the department to secure passage for them.

Mr. Orr states that during the past two weeks he has secured passage abroad for at least fifty natives of the three countries mentioned above, and that inquiry made by him leads to the belief that they are going back home because of the war situation. He thinks that since Austria-Hungary has declared war, the foreign population in Fort Wayne will be greatly decreased within a short time.

A portion of the Fort Wayne foreigners securing passage home left last Saturday, some the first of the week and others are to go next Saturday. Two men applied at the exchange department Tuesday and exchanged United States currency for 50,000 francs, representing $10,000 in our coinage. They said they were going to take the money back with them.

Most of those making inquiry prefer the Greek lines out of New York, according to Mr. Orr. They do so because these lines have a direct course, they do not have to change boats and do not have to go by rail as they would if they went to Hamburg or Havre. The Greek steamboat lines, however, do not have as many boats and some difficulty has been encountered because of the heavy shipping on account of the war in the foreign nations.

MR. AND MRS. REHM ARE BOTH BETTER

Physician Says Auto Victims May Be Brought Home This Week.

So much improvement was noted in the condition of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel M. Rehm in the Sacred Heart hospital at Garrett Wednesday morning that Dr. Thompson, who is attending them, believes they can be brought to their home in this city the last of the week. He also stated that there is no doubt now about their complete recovery.

Both are still suffering extremely from the nervous shock of the automobile accident, in which their daughter, Amber Arvilla Rehm, and a near relative, Mrs. A. M. Blume, were killed by an interurban car near Avilla, and it is said that even now Mrs. Rehm cannot fully realize that their daughter is dead, though she has discussed the tragedy with relatives, nurses and the physician.

Mr. Rehm, however, fully realizes his great loss and his suffering from the shock of the accident is severe. He persists in talking of the tragedy and asking questions concerning the injuries sustained by his daughter that resulted in her death Monday night at the hospital.

Funeral of Daughter.

Funeral services for Amber Rehm will be held Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the Klaehn & Melching chapel, Rev. James Knipper, of the Fort Wayne Rescue Mission, officiating. Interment will be made at Lindenwood.

Services for Mrs. A. M. Blume will be held Thursday noon at 12 o'clock from the residence on the St. Joseph road and at 1:30 o'clock Thursday afternoon from the Methodist Episcopal church at Cedarville, Rev. C. Claude Travis officiating. Interment will be made at the Leo cemetery.

Many View Remains.

Scores of people have called at the undertaking establishment during the past two days to view the remains of Miss Rehm. The young lady had a host of friends and was a leader in the circles in which she moved. The shocking tragedy causing her death has brought sorrow to many homes in Fort Wayne where the young lady was a frequent guest.

Coroner Calls Witnesses.

After having been assured by County Attorney Edward G. Hoffman that his authority empowered him to take charge of the inquest into the death of Mrs. Blume, Coroner E. H. Kruse notified witnesses and others, including members of the train crew and officials of the Fort Wayne & Northwestern interurban that his examination would be conducted Thursday. Mrs. Blume was killed in Noble county but her body was removed to Allen county before an inquest into her death was held.

tion and afterward the leaders of the delegation said they were greatly encouraged by his attitude.

Hugh Chalmers, of Detroit, told the president he believed the greatest trouble with business was uncertainty, and he believed the trust bills should be passed as quickly as possible. Business had been bad for the last few months, he said, but he looked for great improvement as soon as the trust bills were out of the way and the interstate commerce commission gives its decision on the railroad rate case.

Plan Delayed Vacations.

With assurances from democratic leaders that congress might be expected to complete the tasks of this session during the last week in August, President Wilson and many senators and representatives today planned for delayed vacations.

Agreement of the senate republicans not to aim a filibuster against the trust bills added to hope for a speedy adjustment. The president's vacation plans contemplated a sojourn at his summer home in Cornish, N. H., after which he probably will take part in the congressional campaigns in Pennsylvania, Ohio and possibly other states.

Turn to White House.

Seeking to have President Wilson define his attitude in the differences between factions of New York democrats, fifteen members of the New York city delegation in congress headed by Representative Fitzgerald turned to the white house today.

Added interest was given to the conference by a telegram from Dudley Field Malone, collector of the port of New York, to Mr. Fitzgerald, saying that since his activities were expected to be taken up at the meeting he would like to be present. Mr. Malone, however, had not asked the president for an appointment.

The plan at the white house was to hold the conference behind closed doors and not to give out any statement afterward. Officials close to the president said that Mr. Wilson was anxious to meet the New York democrats in a friendly spirit.

Defines Unfair Competition.

Chairman Culbertson, of the state judiciary committee, introduced an amendment to the trade commission bill to make unfair competition unlawful, just as the present bill does, but defining unfair competition as every act which "tends" to create a contract, combination or conspiracy in restraint of trade, and also every act which "tends" to monopolization. He said his amendment was designed to make unlawful acts which "tend" toward the accomplishment of things which the Sherman law already makes unlawful, namely, restraint of trade and monopolies. Senator Cummins continued today to defend the bill in debate.

Will Hear Roosevelt.

The senate foreign relations committee today decided to inform Col. Roosevelt in response to his request for a hearing in opposition to the treaty to pay Colombia $25,000,000 for the partition of Panama that he would be heard whenever the committee determined to take up the convention. Senators said, however, that it was not probable that any further consideration of the treaty would be had at this session of congress.

On President Wilson's urgent request that Secretary Bryan's new peace treaties with twenty nations be ratified at the current congress the senate foreign relations committee today referred the conventions to a sub-committee with instructions to study them and report.

Senators practically had decided to postpone action until next session, but owing to the threatening situation in Europe, ratification may be hurried.

GO THROUGH DAY SAFELY

ures of the day, 3⅝ to 4⅝ under last night.

Reports of communications between the czar and the kaiser, foreshadowing possible peace had most to do with the reaction from yesterday's extraordinary advance of nearly ten cents a bushel.

Clerks and members of board of trade firms worked until daylight today, getting ready for the expected continuation of yesterday's upheaval of the wheat market, when prices went up nine cents a bushel for the September option on account of the European war situation. War news was more eagerly awaited today than at any time since the Russo-Japanese conflict.

Heavy Margin Calls.

The heaviest margin calls in years reached brokers' customers today. Traders were asked to margin their deals up to twenty cents a bushel. Commission houses with many short trades on their books were apprehensive and took precaution to protect themselves.

Similar conditions existed in other grain centers. St. Louis, Kansas City, Minneapolis, Milwaukee and Duluth offices were busy all night, and almost up to opening hour of the grain exchanges today, preparing for another day of excitement.

Instead of advancing, as most traders expected, the wheat market today made a startling break right at the opening. First prices were down more than two cents a bushel. In another minute the market had dropped an additional two cents or more, then there was a sudden rebound of more than three cents, followed by another descent, but in this case not quite so violent.

Pits and Galleries Crowded.

The pits and galleries were crowded to their utmost capacity. The commotion among the traders, however, after trading began were decidedly less tumultuous than yesterday when news was received that war had been declared.

The directors of the Chicago board of trade held a special meeting this morning to discuss the advisability of closing the board because of the tense situation. They finally decided to let the board remain open for the time being.

NEW YORK MAKES RECORD.

Almost Only Security Market to Show Strength and Stability.

New York, July 29.—The New York stock exchange was almost the only security market in the world to show strength and stability today. While London and Paris were discouraging trading and many other foreign exchanges were entirely closed because of demoralized conditions, resulting from the Austro-Servian war, this market not only continued to absorb further heavy offerings from across the water, but put the short interest to rout as well.

Berlin was a helpful factor here, that center taking large amounts of Canadian Pacific at steady advances and buying other issues in the international list. London and Paris were sellers by arbitrage and direct offerings to a considerable extent.

Before the end of the first hour all losses were retrieved with numerous material gains, which were added to in the course of the early session. There were some recessions at midday on announcement of more gold exports, together with a resultant advance in call money to 3 per cent. Declines were soon regained, however, and in the final hour highest prices were registered.

Prices shaded from fractions to a full point early in the afternoon in resumption of gold engagements. A total of $4,000,000 was ordered, of which $2,500,000 was taken from the clearing house vault. It is understood that the gold goes to London.

Renewal of the gold movement was followed by a rise in call money rates to 5 per cent.

Another sharp advance was reported on the rate on gold shipments asked by marine insurance companies. The rate yesterday was $1.250 for each million dollars shipped. Today it was advanced to $5,000 with a slightly lower rate for shipments in Americans vessels.

ONLY LIMITED DEALINGS.

Berlin Bankers' Association in Precautionary Action.

Berlin, July 29.—The bankers association met today and decided against closing the bourse, but resolved to suspend dealings in securities handled for settlement. This includes all the principal stocks. Dealings in the cash market, however, continue.

Bankers here display the most pessimistic mood today. It is expected that the committee of the German imperial bank will meet tomorrow and raise the discount rate from a four to five per cent.

The bourse committee later announced that dealings would be permitted to a limited degree and that settlement quotations would be issued this afternoon.

AUSTRIAN GUNS HURL FIRE INTO BELGRADE

yesterday for military traffic and transportation for the general public was suspended.

Servia, it was known, was just as active in moving her troops. Strong forces were dispatched to the fortified towns of Valyevo and Uzhitza on the Bosnian frontier and to Svilajnatz in the eastern part of the country while strong divisions of volunteers reinforced by regulars were gathering along the river Drinanear Losnitz on the Bosnian frontier.

The Montenegrins also were making preparations and had stationed a brigade with a mountain battery near Priboj, where women were busy building earth works.

Aviators Are Busy.

Servian and Austrian aviators at the same time were flying along the frontiers trying to locate the positions of the opposing forces.

As far as a general European war is concerned, diplomats in London, while they confess the situation to be most grave, consider there is hope of averting a conflict so long as the Austri-Russian "conversations" continue at St. Petersburg.

A telegram from Premier Pachitch of Servia to the Servia legation in London registers a formal complaint in regard to Austrian attacks on Servian merchant vessels on the Danube. It says: "The Austria-Hungarian military and civil authorities fired throughout the day on July 26 without the slightest provocation from our side and damaged three of our trading vessels at Kostelatz on the Danube. The Servian flags were hauled down and replaced by the Austrian colors. There were, however, no casualties."

GERMANY HOPES FOR PEACE.

Emperor and Czar Exchange Messages on the Situation.

Berlin, July 29.—The German emperor and Emperor Nicholas of Russia today exchanged telegraphic communications concerning the international crisis.

The North German Gazette, the official organ of the German government, will publish in its evening edition the following comment on the international situation:

"The peaceful tone of the official Russian communication issued yesterday finds a lively echo here. The imperial German government shares the wish of Russia for the maintenance of peaceful relations and it hopes the German people will support it by maintaining a moderate and quiet attitude."

Military activity on the Russian side of the frontier is confirmed by many evidences which have reached the ears of German officials, but it was stated here today that no mobilization order had been issued by the Russian war office. Private reports from the Russian frontier say distinct indications of Russian military activity have been noticed there. The Russian regiments which have been moving forward to such strategic points on the frontier as Wirballen, Russian Poland, have been served out with 350 rounds of ammunition per man, while hasty purchases of forage have been made for the cavalry.

A number of German regiments have been moved toward the frontier as a precautionary measure. The men wear the new gray uniforms and carry their field equipment.

There was the most intense activity in diplomatic circles here today but no tangible developments were reported. A diplomat said he saw some ground for optimism, but the German foreign office declared there was nothing on which to base a judgment one way or the other. The German crown prince arrived at Potsdam today and a family council was afterward held in the new palace. The emperor and empress, the crown prince and the other princes of the imperial family were present. They conferred for an hour.

FRANCE PREPARES QUIETLY.

Troops of Active Army Concentrating Near the Frontier.

Paris, July 29.—France continues quietly to prepare for war. The troops of the active army are gradually concentrating near the frontier. A military guard has been placed in the great flour mills at Corbeil, near Paris, which in the event of war would be taken over by the army. The bakers in Paris are laying in large stocks of flour and the city authorities, to prevent all possibility of famine in the capital, started forming today a reserve store of 15,000 tons of flour.

The police department is exercising a general surveillance over Austrians and Germans in Paris where many thousands of them reside. The prefect of police today ordered the discontinuance of the service of the public at tables on the sidewalks and on the terraces in front of cafes in consequence of disorders which have occurred since the beginning of the international tension.

The government made an appeal to the press to keep calm and carefully to verify its news concerning the crisis before publishing it.

Adeolphe Messimy, minister of war, today inspected the wireless station of Eiffel tower and ordered the staff doubled.

Long lines of depositors waited outside the savings banks today to withdra wtheir money as all payments will be suspended in case of war.

Gold coin had almost disappeared from circulation in Paris todayand even silver was becoming so scarce that many of th esmall storekeepers were unable to give change.

EFFORT TO LOCALIZE WAR.

Germany and Italy Bending Energies in That Direction.

Vienna, July 29.—Germany and Italy today continued their efforts to localize the war declared yesterday by their ally Austria-Hungary against Servia, and the efforts of all the European diplomats are being directed toward the same object.

No further declaration had been received up to this morning from Russia and that country also had made no fresh attempt to intervene in the controversy. The Russia ambassador to Austria-Hungary, however, conferred with Count Leopold von Berchtold, Austro-Hungarian foreign minister, but it is understood the interview was only for the purpose of obtaining information. Nothing whatever is known here of the disposition of Russia to make a declaration of neutrality in case Austri-Hungary should renounce the idea of territorial expansion at the expense of the Balkan state. Dispatches received here dated Warsaw, Poland, report that several powder magazines exploded in that city on Monday and that several bomb explosisions occurred in the post-office, many persons being killed or wounded.

Another telegram says the entire citadel of Warsaw was blown up and that semi-official circles declared the explosion to have been caused by lightning. The dispatch said there was no truth in the report that a revolution had broken out among the Russian Poles.

All Servians liable to military service residing in Austria-Hungary are being arrested and handed over to the military as prisoners of war.

Electric Works Asks City to Approve Lease of Ground.

The Fort Wayne Electric works of the General Electric company, has asked the city's approval of a provisional lease of a large strip of ground lying east of the present store room, which it has secured from the Wabash Railroad company.

The ground is needed for a shipping and storage plant, as the buildings and ground now used for that purpose are inadequate. The lease is upon the condition that the city approve it for the reason that the ground was given to the Wabash company for railway purposes and cannot be sold, and the Electric company does not wish to take chances on a twenty-five year lease on property that might be taken from them. If the council approves the lease, the Fort Wayne Electric company will at once build a store house and shipping department upon the ground that will cost $400,000. The company in its communication to the city officials, states that it is impossible to take the shipping department west of Broadway and that the ground in question is the only available site for the purpose. It gives access to both the Pennsylvania and the Wabash roads, and is already provided with spur tracks and sidings.

FRED HEINE DIES WHILE ON VISIT

End Comes Very Suddenly to Fort Wayne Man at Freesoil, Mich.

Telegrams received Wednesday morning informed members of his family that Frederick W. Heine, retired Pennsylvania shopman, residing at 228 Douglas avenue, was found dead in bed early in the morning at the home of his brother-in-law, Edward Heckman, at Freesoil, Mich., where with his wife he had been visiting for the past week. When he left Fort Wayne one week ago he appeared to be in his usual health and news of his sudden death comes as a great shock to his relatives and many friends. Mr. Heine was 77 years of age.

Mr. Heine had been a resident of Fort Wayne since he was eighteen years of age, when he came to this country from Germany, his birthplace. He was employed as a carpenter and cabinetmaker at the shops of the Pennsylvania company for a period of forty-five years and was retired on a pension. He was a member of Emanuel's Lutheran church and of the different societies of that congregation.

Surviving he leaves the widow and nine children—Ernest, Frederick, jr., Gottlieb, Lillian, Sophie, Anna, Augusta, Arthur and George Heine, all residing in Fort Wayne.

New York, July 29.—Becky Edelson, the industrial workers of the world orator, who has been on an intermittent hunger strike in the penitentiary on Blackwell's island, has been taking food in tabloid form, according to an announcement today by Miss Katherine Davis, commissioner of corrections.

Yesterday Miss Davis said she had discovered the young woman took two tablets containing nutrition equal to that in a glass of milk. This, the commissioner said, explained why Miss Edelson was in such good physical condition when she testified yesterday in Tarrytown at the trial of the nine leaders of the Industrial Workers of the World. Dr. Ernest S. Bishop was to visit the penitentiary today as consulting physician, and if, in his opinion, Miss Edelson is in need of nourishment she was to be forcibly fed.

B. & O. FILES PETITION.

Asks Permission to Continue to Use "Deckless" Engines.

Indianapolis, Ind., July 29.—The Baltimore and Ohio railroad company today filed a petition with the public service commission asking permission to continue the use of what are known as "deckless" engines on its lines. It asked that its petition might be heard Thursday morning at the same time as a similar petition from the Baltimore and Ohio Southwestern. The engines in question are so constructed that the engineer and fireman cannot see each other when they are seated in the engine cab. The boiler of the engine extends into the cab. The B. & O. petition said it had twenty-two of these engines in use and that it will cost much to reconstruct them properly. The present stringent financial condition of all steam railroads, the petition points out, should have some influence with the commission.

NEWS OF FORT WAYNE'S NEIGHBORS

MADE A MSNNONITE BISHOP.

Berne, Ind., July 29.—Rev. E. J. Neuenschwander has been made a bishop of the Mennonite church, in accordance with a demand made by the congregation of the church of that sect at Aberdeen, S. D., of which the newly ordained bishop is to be pastor. Before the ordination ceremonies here Rev. Joel Lehman, Rev. S. F. Springer and Rev. Karl van der Smissen, delivered short sermons. Rev. Neuenschwander is a native of Berne, the son of C. A. Neuenschwander, president of the Bank of Berne. He was born on his father's farm one mile south of Berne, and after graduating from the eighth grade of the Wabash township schools, in 1899, for several years followed mercantile pursuits. In 1910 he decided to enter the ministry and went to the Naperville seminary, where he received his preparatory and theological education. Rev. Neuenschwander and his wife, who was formerly Miss Alina Springer, left Tuesday for Aberdeen.

BOYS MAKE SERIOUS CHARGE.

Van Wert, Ohio, July 29.—The police of Van Wert are investigating charges made by some boys that Reuben Frisbie tried to drown his 4-odd-year son in Rupright's pond, a short distance south of the city. The lads were there bathing when Frisbie came to the pond and after taking a swim threw his child into the water. He made no effort to rescue the little boy and he had gone down for the second time when one of the crowd of boys leaped into the water and dragged the Frisbie child to shore. It was necessary to roll him for some time to restore consciousness. Frisbie now claims that while he was in the water one of the boys robbed his clothes of over $12.

AUBURN WILL REMAIN "DRY."

Anti-Saloon People Win Election by Increased Majority.

Auburn, Ind., July 29.—Auburn was voted into the "dry" column for another two years in yesterday's option election, which the anti-saloon element carried by a majority of 220. The election was devoid of excitement and sensations, though both "drys" and "wets" worked with energy. The last option election was in November, 1912, when the city went "dry" by a majority of twelve. For over six years Auburn has been without a legalized liquor traffic, it being first made "dry" by remonstrance and having never since then admitted any saloons.

BAD FIRE IN DEFIANCE.

Defiance, O., July 29. Fire of unknown origin which started in the stable of the Cheney Lumber Co. burned $5,000 of lumber, three horses, stable and lumber storage buildings. The fire was discovered at midnight and burned all night. Hard work by the fire department saved the office, factory and other nearby buildings. Total loss is $7,000, partially covered by insurance.

CAUSED SCARE IN JAIL.

Hartford City, Ind., July 29.—Bud Morris, sent here from Montpelier to serve out eleven days on a charge of drunkenness, caused something of a scare in the jail when he announced that his wife and baby in Montpelier were ill with smallpox and that his home was under quarantine. The sheriff had Morris handsomely fumigated, isolated him and kept him under close observation for signs of the outbreak of the disease. Inquiry at Montpelier disclosed that Morris had fabricated his story in the hope of being thrown out of the jail. His wife and child are not ill with smallpox or any other disease. Morris has no wife and child.

BERNE FORGER GETS AWAY.

Berne, Ind., July 29. It has been learned here that Arthur L. McCune, a young man whose departure after passing three forged checks in Berne was reported last Saturday, passed two other checks signed with the forged name of his employer, John Farlow, before he departed. In Berne he cashed checks for $5, $8 and $9, respectively, at the Luginbill & Sprunger store, People's Store and the Manas Baumgardner place. It developed that later he went to Chattanooga, near the state line, where he passed two forged checks, for $17 and $22, respectively, on saloonkeepers. He then returned to Berne, and in company with James Lawson went to Decatur, and thence departed for North Dakota.

BLUFFTON MUST SHIP IN ICE.

Bluffton, Ind., July 29.—So great is the demand for ice this summer that it is thought the present stock of ice will not last through the month of September. R. S. Morrow, owner of the Home Ice company, states that the increasing demand every year is very noticeable. Last winter when storing the ice it was thought at that time that the supply would last until December, as all four ice houses were completely filled. This supply would have easily lasted through the remainder of any ordinary previous year, but it will not be sufficient this year, as the demand is too great.

EFFORTS FOR AN EARLY TRIAL.

Warsaw, Ind., July 29.—The authorities of the Kosciusko circuit court are making every effort to start next Monday on the trial of Antonio Nicholas and George Mendes, brought here from Goshen on a change of venue to answer to charges of murder, assault with intent to commit murder and criminal assault. The Mendes brothers are the members of the gypsy band in whose camp two murders were committed at Goshen July 1. People of Warsaw and vicinity hope that an early trial will be possible in order that the gypsies may have no pretext for hanging around this city.

RIBS BROKEN IN RUNAWAY.

Warsaw, Ind., July 29.—Jack Robinson, proprietor of the Robinson meat market on Market street, is confined to his home suffering from the results of a runaway on Tuesday morning in which he sustained two broken ribs, a severely bruised and injured shoulder and other injuries. Mr. Robinson and his son, Richard, were driving to the slaughter-house, north of the city, along the narrow lane leading to the building, when the colt they were driving became frightened and got beyond control.

BOY CONVICTS HIS MOTHER.

Huntington, Ind., July 29.—Sarah Shively was fined $25 and costs and sentenced to twenty-five days in jail on a charge of operating a resort. Walter, a son 13 years old, was turned over to E. H. Hurd, president of the board of children's guardians. He will be sent to the orphans' home at Mexico, Ind. He was taken before Judge Cook in the circuit court where the necessary papers for his admittance to the home were obtained. It was chiefly on the testimony of the boy that the Shively woman was convicted.

FIRES TWO SHOTS AT WIFE.

Warsaw, Ind., July 29.—Lawrence Stiffler, of Syracuse, caused considerable excitement at the home of his father-in-law, Sam Firestone, in Goshen, when he threatened to shoot his wife. Stiffler had been drinking and quarreled with his wife. He was to have driven her home, but she knew he had a revolver and was afraid of him. He fired a couple of shots when she was near the buggy, but it was not known whether he intended to hit her or not. A Goshen officer was called, but no arrest was made.

THE SENTINEL'S DAILY SCRIPTURE READING.

Micah 4:1-8.

1 But in the last days it shall come to pass, that the mountain of the house of the Lord shall be established in the top of the mountains, and it shall be exalted above the hills; and people shall flow into it.

2 And many nations shall come, and say, Come, and let us go up to the mountain of the Lord, and to the house of the God of Jacob; and he will teach us of his ways, and we will walk in his paths: for the law shall go forth of Zion, and the word of the Lord from Jerusalem.

3 And he shall judge among many people, and rebuke strong nations afar off; and they shall beat their swords into plowshares, and their spears into pruninghooks: nation shall not lift up a sword against nation, neither shall they learn war any more.

4 But they shall sit every man under his vine and under his fig tree; and none shall make them afraid: for the mouth of the Lord of hosts hath spoken it.

5 For all people will walk every one in the name of his god, and we will walk in the name of the Lord our God for ever and ever.

6 In that day, saith the Lord, will I assemble her that halteth, and I will gather her that is driven out, and her that I have afflicted;

7 And I will make her that halted a remnant, and her that was cast far off a strong nation: and the Lord shall reign over them in mount Zion from henceforth, even for ever.

8 And thou, O tower of the flock, the strong hold of the daughter of Zion, unto thee shall it come, even the first dominion; the kingdom shall come to the daughter of Jerusalem.

WEDNESDAY, JULY 29, 1914.

Tammany and Wilson.

Colonel Roosevelt's battle with Chairman Barnes with its kaliedoscopic sidelights in New York politics has served to detract recent attention somewhat from the ambitious Tammany hall contingent in the democratic fold, but it must not be assumed that Tammany has been idle. It has not been nursing its grievance in quiet, and is now coming into the forefront with the announcement that it purposes to protest to President Wilson regarding his shocking disregard of Tammany's wishes in the disposition of federal appointments in New York.

Tammany, as a matter of fact, had little occasion to expect a great deal of consideration from the president. He was against Mr. Murphy's organization, and both Mr. Murphy and the people at large knew it. Mr. Wilson left nobody in doubt on that proposition. In such appointments as have been made in New York, the president has demonstrated a striking predilection for picking independent democrats for the places and ignoring Tammany in a fashion that has made the old organization writhe and groan. Now Tammany congressmen are to have a talk with the president to see what can be done about it.

Very naturally the club which they purpose using is the threat that unless the tiger is appeased politically, the democrats are likely to lose most of the New York congressmen. Tammany will demand to have a say in things or it will refuse to play longer. What Tammany has never been able to realize, apparently, is that the rest of the country is against it, and that as a matter of fact the president's course in keeping clear of alliance with the Murphy organization is one of the factors that contributes very largely to his popular strength. Tammany may talk and plead and cajole and urge and threaten, but we do not believe it will secure any sort of concession from Mr. Wilson. He will follow the straight course he has mapped out and keep free from entangling alliances.

Announcement is made that when the progressives hold their rally in Fort Wayne next Thursday the moosers from over the district are coming to town in a big automobile parade, with a befitting accompaniment of brass bands to give proper vent to party enthusiasm. If the event comes up to the advance notices, it is going to necessitate some revision of local republican estimates to the general effect that there isn't enough of Colonel Roosevelt's party left hereabouts to make noise sufficient to disturb the peaceful slumbers of a babe.

The city council's action in urging immediate beginning of work of grade separtion at Walton avenue, which has been hanging fire on one pretext or another for several years, is to be commended. If we are ever to have track elevation east of Calhoun street, the start must be made somewhere, and perhaps action at Walton avenue will serve to give some needed stimulation to the remainder of the project.

Having been without saloons for six years, the city of Auburn has concluded that the saloonless town is altogether the most desirable and that it has no intention of allowing the bar rooms to come back. Just how strongly this conviction is implanted is indicated by the fact that at the option election Tuesday the "dry" majority was 220 as against a bare 12 but little more than two years ago. Sometimes there's eloquence in figures.

Also it will be noted that the Caillaux trial was considerate enough to get out the way in time to permit the American reading public to give its undivided attention on foreign matters to the Austrian-Servian war. Mme. Caillaux had held the spotlight of popular interest long enough, anyhow.

If Weatherman Palmer, from his busy workshop in the top floor of the Shoaff building, will agree to continue serving the present brand, The Sentinel moves that all the past be forgiven.

GUILT A PERSONAL AFFAIR.

(Philadelphia Ledger)

The United States is now engaged in the task of making guilt personal. That phase of the New Haven case eclipses in interest the Attorney General's suit to dissolve the railroad system.

If the officers and directors of the New Haven were criminally guilty of wrong-doing the public will applaud their conviction: but if they erred only in their business judgment, then they should be exonerated of anything worse than stupidity.

The New Haven offers a fine opportunity for the Federal law to settle several important questions. First, can a monopoly be created at any price? Second, may officials of an inter-State railroad, in their zeal to perfect such a monopoly, wreck their property and remain guiltless? Third, can the government demand restitution for the millions that have disappeared?

Whatever be the result of Attorney General McReynold's action, it will be a wholesome thing to have the financial atmosphere entirely cleared of this whole New Haven fog. There must be in the highest courts a clean-cut settlement of every issue involved—monopoly, financial loss and personal guilt.

Other railroads and other sections of the country will eventually profit by this government action to solve all the doubtful questions involved in the great New England catastrophe. It is major surgery which President Wilson proposes, but it is the only thing that can save the patient.

Once and for all it should be determined whether the guardians of a property may chase a will-o'-the-wisp to the point of bankruptcy without being financially and personally responsible for the results.

AEROPLANE PROGRESS.

(Indianapolis Star)

Saturday thousands of Indianapolis people were treated to the spectacle of Lincoln Beachey in an aeroplane careening up and down the wind almost as though the air were his natural habitat. He demonstrated by every flight that the aeroplane is coming to the practical stage. A few years ago Professor Langley was derided when he launched his aeroplane in the Potomac from the deck of a vessel and it fell into the water. He died a broken-hearted man, it is said, because of this failure. A few weeks ago Glenn Curtiss went to the Smithsonian institute, got out Langley's old flyer and demonstrated by flying it that Professor Langley was only unfortunate in his manner of attempting to launch his flight from the deck of a vessel. Curtiss himself, a few years ago electrified the country by a flight down the Hudson. Today aeroplanes have stayed in the air, not one or two hours, but a day and night. Curtiss, through the generosity of Rodman Wanamaker, has constructed a huge hydro-aeroplane with which an Englishman, Lieutenant Porte, expects to fly across the Atlantic this fall. That such a stupendous feat is even thought of indicates the progress made. The longest span of the flight will be about one thousand two hundred miles. Shades of Columbus! If that brave Genoese of 1492 could have looked into the future and known that man would even now be considering such a flight!

The English and other continental governments are spending huge sums of money on their aviation corps and spending money because they believe aviation is not a plaything, but a science. The United States has taken up the subject seriously. We have a fleet of aeroplanes in Mexican waters. We also have aviation schools. We also have army aviation schools.

Don't move into a House that isn't wired for electricity

Modern comfort demands electric service. Especially is this true since have made electric light a real economy.

Everyone has always appreciated the safety, convenience and superiority of electric light. Now EDISON MAZDA Lamps add to these acknowledged advantages—by giving you three times the light you've been getting with old-style carbon lamps—without using any more electricity.

That means 3 times as much light in each room—or, 3 times as many rooms lighted—or, 3 times as many hours of light—at the old cost.

Our "New Customer" proposition will be of interest to you, if your house is not already wired.

MR. JOSEPH LILL.

MRS. JOSEPH LILL.

A very pretty wedding took place this morning at 9 o'clock in St. Peter's Catholic church in the marriage of Miss Loretta Frances Graf, daughter of Mrs. Philip Graf, and Mr. Joseph C. Lill, a son of Mrs. Mary Lill, also of this city.

Rev. Charles Thiele celebrated the nuptial mass with many friends witnessing the ceremony. Miss Julia Alter and Mr. Joseph Suelzer were the attendants. Ferns and small palms decorated the church prettily. The bride, who is pretty and sweet in appearance looked quite lovely in her wedding costume. Her gown was made of white organdy and with it she wore a white hat trimmed with ostrich plumes. The bride carried a bouquet of bride roses. Miss Alter was dressed in a gown of white net hung over blue silk and her hat was white with blue ostrich plume to watch the coloring in her gown. The bridesmaid's bouquet was a shower of pink roses. After the church service the bridal party and immediate relatives were served a wedding breakfast at the bride's home, 1830 Lafayette street. The house was decorated with flowers, ferns and smilax, and the bride's table with white snapdragon blossoms and garlands of smilax. This afternoon the bride and groom go to London, Ontario, and will be away all summer. Mr. Lill is a member of the pitching staff of the Ottawa, Canadian league baseball club, where he played last season under Frank J. Shaughnessy. Before he went into organized ball he was a pitcher for the Fort Wayne Rolling mills club of the local shop league, having taken up baseball on his return from college at Rensselaer. He will rejoin the club on Monday of next week and continue as a member of the staff. The bride is well known and a favorite among her many friends. For traveling the bride will wear a blue serge suit with white Panama hat. Mr. and Mrs. Ed Richlin, of Toledo, Ohio, relatives of the groom were her to attend the wedding, accompanied by their daughters, Ethel and Dorothy.

IN THE CHURCHES DECIDE TO GIVE A PLAY THIS FALL

"Her Gloves" is Title of Play to Be Staged by A. C. W. in October.

At the regular monthly meeting of the executive committee of the Associated Christian Workers held Tuesday evening at the Crescent Avenue Evangelical church it was decided after some discussion to give a new play this fall. The managing of the play was left in the hands of the social committee, Emil Koenig chairman, and it has been decided by this committee to give the play entitled, "Her Gloves," a three-act comedy-drama, on Thursday and Friday evenings, October 22 and 23. The chairman has had two names submitted to him from each society from which the cast will be chosen at the first rehearsal, which will be held the first part of September.

The meeting of the executive committee Tuesday evening was to have been held in the Lakeside park following the supper which was served there by the social committee of the Crescent Avenue church, but due to the fact that it was rather cool, the meeting was held in the church. Following the roll call, which showed sixteen present, and the reading of the secretary's report of the last meeting, the discussion of new business began.

It was suggested that the association attend the meetings of the Rescue Mission, Gospel Mission and the county orphans' home and the plans for this was left in the hands of the missionary committee. The place of the next meeting is to be decided by the social committee, and it is probable that it will be held in the east part of the city near the Calvary U. B. church.

The social committee chairman was asked to give a report on the trolley party to be held on the evening of August 4. He stated that 235 tickets had been given out and that in some cases the presidents had asked for more, which were supplied. He urged that every president report by next Monday morning how many of their society were going to attend so that enough cars would be on hand to accommodate all.

ARE AWARE OF DOWNFALL.

"Liquor Men Are Seeing the Hand Writing on the Wall," Says Mrs. C. Vayhinger.

That the men who deal in intoxicating liquors and drinks are aware of their coming downfall and the powerful work of the Women's Christian Temperance union in the state, as well as in the nation, was a point brought out by Mrs. Culla Vayhinger in her stirring address at the assembly room of the court house Tuesday evening, when she made this statement, "The liquor men are seeing the handwriting on the wall."

Mrs. Vayhinger, who is president of the Indiana body of the W. C. T. U., gave examples as proof for her statement and she also said that the issue in the next political campaign in November would be the liquor question. She left Wednesday morning for Chicago, where she has been asked to do some special work for the temperance unions.

Mrs. Lulu Gleason, field secretary of the Ohio W. C. T. U., also gave a short talk on the work being done in Ohio. She told how the women there had worked for the amendment to the constitution and had secured over 20,000 names more than was necessary, showing the progress being made along the line of prohibition. She urged the Allen county women to get busy and try to secure for themselves and other women of the state some kind of a franchise in the state government. She made the surprising statement that Indiana is the only state that does not give its women franchise on something or other.

One of the surprising features of the meeting was that over one-third of the seats were occupied by men, which has never occurred before in any meeting of this character here.

FORT WAYNE MAN'S EXPERIENCE WITH HORRIBLE CREATURE

Monster Measured 60 feet in Length---Mr. Clarence Omo, Living at 1515 Fletcher Avenue, Tells How He Was Saved by Pizaro's Discovery---Office at 215 West Berry Street---Crowded Daily.

Some interesting and astonishing facts have been brought to light within the past week by the visit of Pizaro to this city. A number of people called at the office at 215 W. Berry street, where Pizaro is making his headquarters, bringing with them in various receptacles immense parasites. These people have recently been taking one of the Pizaro preparations. There were many of them frightened and came to ascertain the nature of the creatures which they had brought with them.

When asked to explain the matter he replied: "In every city I visit these things are brought to me within a week after my medicines are sold in a city. They are what is commonly known as the tapeworm, and grow to an enormous size. They may be anywhere from ten to seventy-five feet in length.

"Few, indeed, realize how common the creatures are. I believe that fully one-half of the chronic stomach trouble that is so universal is caused by these parasites.

Individauls may be afflicted with them for years and not be aware of the reason for continued ill-health, but attribute it to various diseases, when in reality one of these creatures is absorbing their vitality.

"The surest indication of one of these parasites is feeling of extreme lassitude at all times and a disinclination for any effort.

"Individuals who lack ambition, feel tired all the time, who have dizzy spells, coated tongues, bad taste in the mouth, who have poor circulation and poor memory believe they are suffering from many complaints. The true reason for their condition is, as a rule, nothing more or less than one of these parasites.

"I have had many of the things brought to me while in this city, and I don't know how many people will be relieved of them who I will never hear about at all. The action of my medicine seems to be fatal to these great worms. In almost all cases a few doses of the medicine drive the creatures from the system.

Fort Wayne Man Saved.

Mr. Clarence Omo, 1515 Fletcher ave., tells of his experience:

"For a long time I have been suffering untold misery. My stomach would pain at times and would swell. Gas would form and my food would distress me so that I was discouraged, as I tried several different doctors with no success until I went and saw Pizaro's expert. He gave me just one dose of medicine and told me to go home and await the results. I did so and in a few hours I was relieved of a monster tape worm over sixty feet in length. I am well now and happy and I recommend Pizaro's stomach remedy."

Crowds Flocking.

Pizaro's doctor is kept busy from morning until night at his office, 215 West Berry street. The doctor is giving examination and consultation to all the sick and suffering who call.

Pizaro lectures every evening and gives a free entertainment at his grounds, located at the corner of South Calhoun and Creighton avenue.

WILL ORDER BOALT DEPORTED.

Garrison Declares Writer's "Law of Flight" Story False.

Washington, July 29.—Secretary Garrison announced today that he would direct Brig. Gen. Funston at Vera Cruz to deport from Mexico Fred L. Boalt, a correspondent, who sent out a sensational story that an American naval officer applied the "law of flight" to Mexican prisoners. A court of inquiry pronounced the story false.

LIGHT OVERCOATS AND FURS.

Coldest July 28 in Twenty-five Years Sets New Style in New York.

New York, July 29.—Light overcoats and even furs were much in evidence on the streets and on trains in New York last night and the temperature of between 61 degrees and 70 degrees made those persons who wore winter clothing the envy of the summer-clad folk.

According to the weather bureau forecaster yesterday was the coolest July 28 since 1884. A heavy rain and east winds were responsible for the drop in the temperature which today was expected to remain in the neighborhood of 70 degrees. The forecaster added that no very warm weather was in sight this week. Captains of incoming steamers said that the weather on the ocean was cooler during the past few days than they had known it at the end of July for the last twenty-five years.

WILL HAVE NEW POLICE STATION

Board of Works Decides to Use Rabus Property for That Purpose.

Extensive remodeling of the interior of the city hall, reconstruction of the Rabus dwelling just east of the city building and recently purchased by the city to accommodate the municipal electric light and power department offices into police headquarters and a shifting about of offices in the city building are plans provided for in the budget of the board of works, which was partially completed Wednesday. The plans now are to equip the present rooms occupied by the board of works for the city electric light and power offices, shift the board of works into the south end of the city building in the rooms now taken up by the police department and thoroughly overhaul the Rabus property for police station purposes and employ the basement portion now used by the police for storeroom purposes. It is believed that it will be on all accounts better to keep the electric light offices in the city building convenient to the office of the comptroller, which is directly across the main corridor from the present rooms of the board of works.

The board has decided to ask for more money for garbage collection next year and will put on twelve wagons instead of eight, as now.

COUNCIL DEMANDS ELEVATION.

Wants Something Done to Separate Grades East of Calhoun.

The city council expressed its impatience with the board of works because nothing has been done for the elevation of the Wabash and Pennsylvania tracks east of Calhoun street, demanded the opening of proceedings for a subway at Walton avenue and the Pennsylvania by unanimously adopting a resolution to that end and one councilman even went so far as to declare his opinion that if there was no immediate prospect of spending money for track elevation the levy should be cut in two and half of it given to the garbage plant fund.

The subject was brought up for discussion by a resolution prepared and introduced by President William A. Bayer, of the council, instructing the board of works at once to bring in a resolution for the Walton avenue elevation, which was adopted by unanimous vote of the thirteen members present. The resolution is as follows:

"Whereas, There is an urgent necessity existing for grade separation at Walton avenue, and

"Whereas, Mayor Hosey assured the track elevation committee and the citizens of the east side that he favored the same, provided the grade conform with the general plan of track elevation east of Calhoun street, and also stated emphatically to the track elevation committee and the citizens of the east side that resolutions would be adopted and work started this year, and

"Whereas, This meeting of the mayor, the track elevation committee and the citizens of the east side having taken place in April of this year and the board of works not having done anything so far toward that end, therefore be it

"Resolved, By the common council that the board of public works be hereby instructed to at once prepare the necessary resolutions for the separation of grades at Walton avenue."

Messrs. Hartman, councilman-at-large; Keller, of the Eighth ward; President Bayer, Mills, of the Sixth ward, and Kinder, councilman-at-large, expressed the belief that Walton avenue ought to be gone at promptly, though Korte, of the Tenth ward, a part of the city more than any other interested in the improvement, opposed it. President Bayer pointed out that the surveys made showed that the raising of the Pennsylvania grade two and one-half feet at Walton avenue would bring that portion into conformance with the Calhoun street grade. Ofenloch, of the Seventh ward, thought it would be better to make the first proceedings effective as to Lafayette and Hanna streets, and at the same time thought conditions were not just now favorable for putting the railroads under too much pressure. Councilman Hartman said he did not believe that the ten-cent levy for track elevation ought to be reduced in the 1915 rate, but insisted that if there was no prospect that the board was going to get anything done next year a five-cent levy was sufficient and said the other five cents should be added to the garbage plant levy. "We want to get something done along some line," concluded the councilman. Chairman Frank E. Singrey, of the board of works, was present and asked the privilege of the floor for a few minutes, during which he explained that the mayor and board had no personal preferences in the matter of track elevation, but wanted to do that which was practical and best. He indicated that resolutions for work east of Calhoun street would not long be delayed.

The council passed an ordinance authorizing the city comptroller to lend $12,000 to the park board to tide that body over until its fall taxes were available; an ordinance regulating the storage and removal of manure; authorizing the mayor to take regular procedure for the alienation and sale of city property, which in this case is some scrap iron and brass in the waterworks department; an ordinance providing for the salary of another officer in the health department's sanitary force and providing $840 to pay his salary for a year, and referred to the finance committee an ordinance appropriating $5,000 to the board of safety to repair three fire engines; to the committee on rules, regulations and ordinances an ordinance to amend the ordinance regulating the installation of electric service lines and meters; to the committee on finance and the committee on fees and salaries an ordinance to pay Henry Becker $900 due him as clerk of the municipal light and power department from June, 1909, to January, 1914; an ordinance amending the ordinance regulating the use of the streets by traction engines; to the committee on contracts and franchises an ordinance ratifying the franchise given by the board of works to the Fort Wayne and Northern Indiana Traction company for a double track on Calhoun street, from Creighton avenue to Pontiac street and along with it a remonstrance of property owners on that part of the street affected by the franchise. The ordinance will be reported unfavorably and sent back to the board without approval.

PRODDING WABASH RECEIVER.

Board of Works Intimates That Taylor Street Better Be Completed.

In a letter mailed Wednesday to Edward B. Pryor, receiver of the Wabash railroad, the board of works advises that officer of the court that it will be much better for the city and for the railroad if the Wabash will inaugurate procedure for the early completion of track elevation work at Taylor street. The board disclaims any purpose to threaten—but it wants the work done and calls attention to the fact that the job has been monkeyed with for two years and is still incomplete. What the board means to convey is that if something is not soon done to complete the Taylor street work the Wabash will be made to suffer consequences under the terms of its contract with the city whereby it received valuable grants for the accommodation of its freight terminal in Fort Wayne. The city can go ahead and complete the Taylor street work and make the railroad pay for it, as the city threatened to do at Harrison street before the Wabash finally got down to business with grade separation work on that thoroughfare. Work men came to the city Tuesday to repair damage to the South Wayne sewer caused by piling driven into the drain from the temporary work at Taylor street and were not doing it satisfactorily.

WILL ENFORCE NEW ORDINANCE.

Measure Regulating the Storage and Removal of Manure to Have Effect.

Dr. J. H. Gilpin, secretary of the board of health stated Wednesday that the ordinance passed by the city council Tuesday night regulating the storage and removal of manure within the city limits would be stringently enforced by the health department. The ordinance was drafted by Dr. H. O. Bruggeman, president of the board of health, and Dr. Gilpin and it is designed as a measure both of health and cleanliness. It is expected to do more than any other one thing attempted in Fort Wayne to abolish the fly nuisance. The ordinance provides that manure must be kept in covered bins that shall be emptied twice a week during the period from June 1 to November 1 of each year and once each two weeks during the balance of the year. Keepers of horses, mules, cows or other live stock within the city must report their holdings and where such stock is kept. The records will be kept on file in the health office.

BIDS FOR CREMATORY COAL.

The board of works has taken under advisement the bids for 1,000 tons of coal for use of the garbage crematory. Five bidders submitted proposals, and an award will probably be made Thursday evening at the regular meeting of the board. The following bids were handed in:

Olds Coal company, $1.09, $1.09, $1.19, $1.15, $1.30, $1.30 per ton according to grade; J. F. Zurbach Coal company, $1.32, $1.20, $1.05, $ .90, $1.15, $1.00 per ton according to grade; Martin Howe Coal Co., $1.10; Dun Coal company, $1.19; Pioneer Coal company, $1.20, $1.25, $1.15, $1.35, $1.10, $1.40, $1.10 per ton, according to grade.

LITTLE BUT ROUTINE.

The regular Wednesday afternoon meeting of the city park board was called to order with practically nothing to do. Some small routine matters were on Secretary Stotss' schedule for the session and the prospect was for a very brief meeting.

THRONGS EAGER TO RETURN TO FIGHT

Austrians and Servians in America in Readiness to Go Back.

New York, July 29.—The consulates of Austria-Hungary and Servia in this city were busy places again today and at an early hour crowds of men capable of bearing arms filed their names with the consuls and secretaries in charge and promised to hold themselves in readiness to return to their native countries for military service.

At the Austria-Hungary consulate it was stated that in the event of a large number of reserves in this country being called upon for service steamships would be chartered by the government to transport them to Austria. How the Servian reservists would get back for military duty was a problem, it was said at the Servian consulate, that would be solved quickly when the time for action arrived.

A possible feature of the war, it was pointed out today, was the recruiting in this country of Macedonian reserves, who since the war with Turkey have come under Servian rule. It was asserted at the Servian consulate that the Macedonians would respond eagerly to the call of the Servian king.

A rumor current yesterday that the principal European powers likely to be involved in the Austro-Servian war had placed orders in this country for large quantities of coal for their navies was confirmed by leading coal exporters today. The possibility of Germany, Austria, Italy and France being shut off from the Welch coal supply by England being drawn into the controversy is held here to be responsible for the orders placed with American coal exporters.

CHICAGO RAISES FUNDS.

Chicago, July 29.—War funds raised at anti-Austrian meetings here last night were counted today and held in readiness to be used for the transportation of Servians, Coratians, Bohemians and other Slavs who wish to go to Europe to fight for Servia. Currency and pledges said to total more than $10,000 were raised at one meeting for the benefit of the Servian military hospital service. Intense feeling was shown. The Austrian double-headed eagle emblem was torn from the walls and trampled. The Slavic colony here is estimated at more than 50,000.

RIOTING AT LOS ANGELES.

Los Angeles, Cal., July 29.—Rioting broke out here early today in the portion of the city where Servians and Austrians reside. There was some shooting, but no one was found to have been injured by a bullet.

Police reserves suppressed the disturbances. Several Austrians were arrested.

MARRIAGE SERVICE IN GERMAN.

Because bride and groom were both born in Germany and neither had learned to speak English, Justice of the Peace A. C. Nierman on Wednesday read the marriage ceremony for them in the German language. It was the first ceremony Justice Nierman had pronounced in that language.

SAYS HUSBAND DOES NOT LOVE

Nina M. Shaaf Charges Her Spouse With a Cruel Indifference.

In a divorce complaint filed in the superior court Nina M. Shaaf says her husband, Henry A. Shaaf, has always treated her cruelly and inhumanly in that he has never manifested toward her the love and attention due a wife from her husband, and always has been extremely indifferent to the welfare or comfort of the plaintiff and their children. He has given no attention to his household duties, as a husband and father, she says, and herself and children are neglected and uncared for, making conditions at home unbearable. She professes a fear of bodily harm from the defendant and Judge Ryan has issued an order to restrain him from molesting her in any way. She asks the custody of three children, aged 11, 10 and 8 years, with suitable provision for their support.

Says Husband is Drunkard.

Myrtle Arbuckle tells the superior court in a divorce complaint that her husband, Bert Arbuckle, is a drunkard, treats her in a manner both cruel and inhuman, has failed to provide for her needs and she wants to have done with him after a wedded life that began April 8, 1912, and ended July 28, 1914. Judge Ryan, in the superior court has issued an order to restrain the defendant from molesting her at her apartments in the Pixley-Long building, on East Berry street.

Notes of the Courts.

In the superior court Judge Ryan has dismissed the divorce suit of Cora Moon against Alfred Moon.

Ten minutes sufficed to present the testimony of the plaintiff in the case of Clara Beagles against Alfred Beagles in the superior court Tuesday afternoon, and Judge Ryan granted a decree. The pair have figured much in the courts during the past year, Mrs. Beagles prosecuting her husband for desertion and later for divorce, a former suit having been dismissed. Her maiden name, Clara Dunfee, was restored.

In the superior court the Grabill Lumber company has sued Benjamin Stuckey for the foreclosure of a mortgage, demanding $500.

Judgment for $900 has been given Henry B. Ness as administrator of the estate of Otto F. Ness, deceased, in a damage suit for $10,000 against the Fort Wayne and Northern Indiana Traction company. The suit was brought in the superior court. Otto Nees was a dairyman and was killed at the corner of Creighton and Fox avenues July 21, 1913, when his milk wagon was struck by a street car.

The will of the late Charles Prange, of Washington township, has been filed for probate. He leaves his estate equally to his six children.

In the will of Mrs. Jennie Wickliffe, widow of the late Michael Wickliffe, 1001 Columbia avenue, she leaves her estate to be divided equally between her sons, Thomas and Charles Clark.

APPROVES BASIS OF VALUATION.

The state board of tax commissioners has warmly approved the basis of tax valuation that was adopted last spring by County Assessor William Eggeman, and it will stand without correction. The report showed that the personal valuation this spring advanced about $700,000 in Allen county. Assessor Eggeman was thanked by the state board for his work. He returned Tuesday evening from Indianapolis.

WILL MEET SEPTEMBER 16.

It is announced by President Louis F. Crosby that the Blackford Law club will hold its first meeting following the suspension during the summer on Wednesday evening, September 16. The question will be decided at the meeting whether or not moot court sessions will be held, and if so whether or not the public shall be admitted.

Heads Motorcyclists of United States.

A. B. COFFMAN.

A. B. Coffman, of Toledo, O., is the new president of the Federation of American Motorcyclists—and ten minutes after he was elected he was "on the job."

Members of the F. A. M. are looking to Mr. Coffman for great things during the coming year, for he is known as a hustler and as a man who gets results. Coffman is comparatively a young man but has had wide experience in business matters. He is expected to bring to the F. A. M. a period of real efficiency and economy during which the interests of motorcycling will be properly advanced and a better general understanding of the value and pleasure of the motorcycle will be given to the public in general.

Co-operation!

This is President Coffman's watchword. It is his platform. And he is going to stand on it and work from it during his administration. President Coffman has found co-operation to be one of the greatest forces in business and he intends to apply this modern business principle to the affairs of the F. A. M. He expects the active co-operation of each and every one of the F. A. M.'s great army of riders and he confidently expects that before the end of the year he will have an active, hustling organization in every state in the union.

President Coffman will make Toledo the headquarters of the federation, and says that not only is the federation going to "do things," but that as well it is going to let its thousands of members know what it is doing.

MITCHELL PICKS AXES FOR FIGHT

Frenchman Changed His Mind About Insult to His Honor.

New York, July 29.—Jim Mitchell, one of the greatest weight heavers that ever did any heaving, almost fought a duel once. It happened in Stockholm, Sweden, back in 1912, and the near-gory facts have just come to light.

Jim, who is a trifle larger than the Woolworth building, went over with the American contingent for the purpose of "covering" the contests for one of the American papers. Among Jim's duties was that of snap-shooting any important incidents of the doings.

It so happened that one afternoon Jim, who was in the second row in the grandstand, wanted to get a picture of the King of Sweden. An excited little Frenchman had the seat just in front of the huge Mitchell and everytime that Mitchell got the kingly form right in focus the Frenchman would bob back and forth and spoil the sight.

Mitchell endured the bobbing process in patience for more than a minute, and just exasperated, he reached out with his huge left arm, picked the little Frenchman off his feet and tucked Frenchie in the hollow of left arm. Holding him this way with one arm, Mitchell was able to train the camera with his other hand and snap the king just as he was passing out of focus.

The picture taken, Mitchell extricated the Frenchman from under his arm and dropped him back into his seat. The Frenchman, without a word, scampered away from his seat and out of the stands. About 20 minutes later another Frenchman came along, sought out Mitchell, and shoved a card at him.

"What's this?" thundered Mitchell, fingering the pasteboard which bore a French name.

"Ee' ees zee name of zee gentleman you have insulted," replied the Frenchman. "His honaire has been insulted. He challenges zee to zee duel."

"Say, you don't mean that little jumping jack that sat in front of me, do you?" asked Mitchell, not being sure of the identity of the person whom he was supposed to have insulted.

"I mean, sir, zee grand gentleman who sat in zee seat in zee front of zee. I say, hees honaire has been insulted and you shall pay it zee duel."

"Oh, that's who you mean, eh," grinned Mitchell. "That little geezer! Say, are you his second?"

"I have zee great honaire, sir."

"Well, lookit here," said Mitchell, "I don't know much about this here dueling business—that is, the rules of the game. Tell me, who chooses the weapons."

"Zee gentleman who ees challenged makes zee choice," replied the Frenchman. "Een theis case, sir, you shall choose. Name zee weapons, sir, name zee weapons."

Mitchell stretched himself to his full height first, expanded his enormous chest, and then, leaning almost half way over so that he could get his lips close to the Frenchman's ear, he bellowed:

"Battle axes—battle axes, I choose battle axes, you little frogeater. Do we duel?"

They didn't.

MANAGER NEE IS OUT FOR SEASON

Here on First Trip Since Injury and Sees His Vets Win.

Manager Johnny Nee, whose battle with misfortune began just as soon as he entered upon duties that made him manager of the Dayton baseball club and also the youngest team pilot in Class B, is out for the remainder of the season but he came here with his Veteran troops and saw it take Grover Cleveland Young down the line in the opening battle by a score of six to two.

The juvenile commander played a lot of hi-lo and "shagged" a few on the infield but his injured ankle is still badly swollen and so stiff he can not bend it. He has given up the hope of playing this year but draws consolation from the fact that while he was in the game he helped put his team out in front so far that there is no doubt it will win the pennant.

Young, who had shown excellent form for a few weeks, had one of those bad days that comes to the best of hurlers and his principal difficulty was lack of control. He went the limit on half the batters and forced himself to a three-and-two battle with Earl Sykes in the third inning and was unable to hold the last ball he pitched below the waist line and in the parlance of the pasture Mr. Sykes "combed" it.

By virtue of Martin's hit and a forced out by DeHaven, Spencer's hit to right with two gone and Meister's rap to left there were two Dayton runners on the paths when their first baseman got one just where he likes 'em. He landed on it and he the ones it had coasted off the bricks on Clinton street he and a pair of his pards were well on the way to the counting station.

The game was a slow and uninteresting event. Two and a quarter hours were expended in bringing the argument to a close and most of this was due to the fact that the Vets were waiting 'em out at the plate and forcing Young to work. Umpire Poss got into an argument with Manager Harry Martin in the early part of the game and the Dome leader was chased from the coaching lines.

Fred Stremmel, whose pitching arm is kept in condition by reason of some expert massage work invented and applied by Mrs. Phil, had his whole pitching collection under command and by mixing a moist delivery with excellent control and a good curve, he held the Billikens safe at all stages.

Marcus Aurelius McLafferty had a real-letter day in the field. He handled seven chances in brilliant style and his pals in Stremmel's pronunciation in the fourth was of the variety that made him popular on the Central league circuit.

Frankie Nespo also kicked in with a brilliant hit when he chucked Ward Clemens out at the plate in the ninth Spender hit over second and Nespo chased the ball down. Clemens thought he could score from second but the throw caught him before he hit the ground and he was outed.

"Dutch" Meister was also in with a queer play. He chased a fly that ordinarily would have been easy picking for him and dropped it. Smith, who hit the fly kept on going and reached second on the play. Meister muffed the ball, then picked it up and took a wild heave at second and gave the runner an extra base.

And this was not all. In the same inning Clemens fumbled McLafferty's easy grounder and Lee Hobbs took a bad throw on Brant's grounder, allowing Smith to complete the circuit on three errors. Brant's double in the eighth was responsible for the other run which Bratchl made after he had forced Holderman at second.

Meister redeemed himself later in the game by a good catch of Hobberman's drive.

NOBODY AT HOME IN BRAIN CELLS

Kid McCoy Says the Boxer of the Present Day Does Not Think.

San Francisco, Cal., July 29.—"It's no use—they don't snap in that left hand like the old-timers. It's all brute strength now. They simply run in and batter away until one or the other happens to stop one with his jaw."

KID McCOY.

The speaker was Kid McCoy, inventor of the "corkscrew" punch, and in his day one of the craftiest middleweights of the prize ring.

"The trouble with the average modern boxer is that he DOES NOT THINK.

"Think of a boxer who is so set in his ideas that he knows how to box in one way only—the crouch.

"Now, the fact is that the crouch wasn't anything new when Jim Jeffries made it famous. Most all of us used it in the old days. I used it when I boxed Tommy Ryan.

"But I didn't box in a crouch with every man I met. If I had, one of those big fellows would have reached over and brought me to my knees with a whack on the back of the head.

"I used the crouch when facing opponents against whom I thought it would be effective. And if it didn't work, it took me only a round or so to find it out.

"Against real tall fellows we never used a crouch. We were shorter than they to begin with. Then what was the sense in making ourselves still shorter, if we expect to hit them above the neck?

"But I'll tell you what we always did do. We protected our jaws and ears with our shoulders. That's why you don't see the old fellows carrying around the ears.

"Bob Fitzsimmons was an adept at protecting himself. Let fly a swing at him, and ninety-nine times out of a hundred your glove landed on one of those great freckled shoulders of his.

"But there was a great man. I consider Fitz the best fighter I ever knew.

"Jack Johnson! Not on your life. Fitz could have licked him with ease.

"I met Johnson in New York one day shortly before he got in his trouble which sent him to Europe.

"'Pretty easy for you, Jack,' I remarked, 'you haven't had any hard ones to go against.'

"'Ah guess dat's right, Kid,' he replied, 'dese boys is all duck soup.'

"'And the 'big shine' was right,'' remarked McCoy. "To the old-timers all our modern middle and heavyweights look like 'duck soup.' They don't think."

EVERYTHING SET FOR BALL EVENT

Weather All That Could Be Asked and Sale of Tickets Good.

Everything was set Wednesday afternoon for the Claude E. Varnell day at the Fort Wayne baseball park and with a brand of weather the committee would probably have selected if the choice had been left to the members early indications pointed to a good-sized turn out of fandom.

Players of both teams were all keyed up for the going and, in spite of the fact that Dayton is way out in front with a lead that precludes any element of danger the men were just as anxious when they went on the field to win as if they had been fighting neck and neck for the wire.

A band concert enlivened the early events of the field sport program and was scheduled to supply music during the entire contest. The members of the booster committee continues their work today with a view of reaching the 2,000 mark.

Many of the tickets disposed of went in blocks and most all of them will probably be used between now and Sunday as Evansville follows Dayton and these clubs are holding the spotlight in the Central league at this time.

Bill Cramer was picked to pitch the game with Pete Fahrer, who has been sold to the Cincinnati club, as his opponent and with this pair going true to form an excellent entertainment was promised.

Dayton will finish its series here with a game tomorrow afternoon and will be followed by Manager Charles Knoll and his band of second placers. Mr. Varnell was highly pleased with the testimonial given him by the Fort Wayne fans and pleasantly surprised at the generous manner in which they came across for tickets.

MARSANS LOADED FOR COURT CASE

Alien Labor Law May Enter Into Hearing of His Case.

St. Louis, July 29.—The petition of the St. Louis Federal club to have dissolved the injunction against Armando Marsans, who jumped to the local team from the Cincinnati Nationals, was scheduled to be considered by Judge J. H. Trieber in the federal district court here today.

Marsans returned to St. Louis from Cuba, his native land, two days ago loaded with documentary evidence to be used in the case. Officials of the local Federal league club are so confident of victory in the legal battle that they have made it known that four players prominent in the major leagues are ready to emulate Marsans should the federal court give him the right to play with St. Louis.

It is understood that attorneys for the Federal league will try to break down the injunction by the counter charge that the Cincinnati club violated the alien labor law by bringing a foreigner to the United States under contract.

WAMBSGANSS TO CLEVELAND CLUB

Local Player Will Have Trial in the Big Show This Fall.

William Wambsganss, former Concordia college student and a son of Rev. Phillip Wambsganss, pastor of Emmaus Lutheran congregation, has been sold by the Cedar Rapids club to the Cleveland Americans and will be given the "once over" this fall by Manager Joe Birmingham.

Wambsganss, who carried with him into sports the nickname of "Goose," started his diamond work with the Concordia college baseball team and played also with the Fort Wayne Shamrocks, Columbia City, Warsaw and other small cities in the vicinity of Fort Wayne and after the school term of 1913 he joined the Cedar Rapids club.

He went to the team again this season and has evidently been putting up an excellent brand of baseball to attract the attention of the scouts. He is a young player and will likely need seasoning before he sticks permanently under the big top but that he is a good prospect is apparent or the scouts would not have bought him in these times of baseball warfare.

The announced price for the shortstop is $2,000 and two players, which is a pretty stiff figure under present conditions. Wambsganss was also a basket ball player on the college team and if he can make good he will be the second Concordia college student to go to the big leagues in the last few years, Max Carey having made the outfield for the Pittsburgh club.

SOX TO TOUR SOUTH AMERICA.

Chicago, July 29.—A tour of South America this coming winter by the Chicago American league team is contemplated by Charles A. Comiskey, owner of the club, it was made known today. Comiskey will probably try to arrange for the White Sox to be accompanied by the New York Nationals, although Comiskey would not state whether he and John McGraw, manager of the Giants, had discussed details. "I don't care whether the trip would pay or not," Comiskey said. "I want to show baseball to all the people of the earth. After South America it should be Africa and then we will have shown the sport to every one."

FIGHTING FOR DAVIS CUP.

Norman Brooks and Tony Wilding, Australian tennis champions, overwhelmed Canada's challengers for the Davis cup and now are the most dangerous of the challengers. The chances of the Australians capturing the honors in the elimination series are now bright and they are the probable opponents of Maurice McLoughlin and his American defenders of the cup. The play of the Australians at Onwentsia was the most brilliant seen in America in years and many fear they will carry the trophy back to the Antipodes.

Congress of Old Ladies Wednesday, August 5

Seventy-seven old Ladies, ranging in age from 75 to 90 years, registered in the Congress of Old Ladies at Robison Park last year. Massed together in one group, they presented an inspiring sight. Feeble, careworn and scared with the trials of many summers and with the hardships of many winters, they bore mute testimony of unseen battles, successfully fought against sickness, misfortune and untold discouragement. 5,000 women attended Women's Day last year. By their very presence they paid a glowing tribute to the 77 old ladies whose combined ages totaled over 6,000 years. Many who sat in the Congress in 1913 will be absent from the roll call on August 5th, because they have passed to the Great Beyond. Mrs. Amanda Rose, age 91, the oldest woman present last Women's Day writes that she is planning to come to the Congress this year. "It was the grandest day of my life," she says, "and I felt just like Queen Victoria." Mrs. Rose will ride in the carriage with the oldest woman present this year. They will be the Park's guests of honor. Jos. Welck, popular livery man of 1017 Hanna Street will have his finest coach and pair at the Park on Women's Day, so that the Park's guests may be driven about the grounds. Let everyone present show them marked respect.

MANY NOTABLES AT WINONA LAKE

Friends Conference Brings Influx of Interesting Visitors.

Winona Lake, Ind., July 29. Among the persons of distinction who are attending the Young Friends Conference at Winona is Rev. Charles Woodman, who is pastor of the Friends church at Portland, Maine. He has taken a prominent part on the program during the past week and has made many friends on the grounds.

Rev. R. S. Rice is another of the interesting characters connected with this conference. He has spent a number of years in Mexico where he has done missionary work under the auspices of the Friends church. The secretary, Miss Lillian E. Hayes, reports that this conference has been one of the most interesting and profitable ever held. Inasmuch as Winona is their permanent meeting place they have made definite arrangement for their return to Winona next year.

Rev. Charles Stelzle was at Winona yesterday and has entered into a contract with Dr. Dickey to be present and deliver his popular lecture along sociological lines at the Bible Conference next month. Rev. Stelzle was superintendent of the department of immigration from 1905 to 1910 and also gave his services in connection with Labor Temple of New York for a number of years where he was dean of the social service department of Men and Religion Forward Movement. He has been actively engaged among foreign speaking people under the auspices of the New York Presbytery. Among his well known books are "The Workingman and Social Problems," "Boys of the Street and How to Win Them," and "Christianity's Storm Center." The addition of Dr. Stelzle to the Winona Bible Conference will add great value to it.

Rev. Edward L. Buchanan, of Garrett, was at Winona last Monday. He is the owner of the Buchanan cottage on Fifteenth street and in former years assisted the Winona management in the real estate and other departments.

Rev. Martin Anstey, M. A., who is delivering a series of lectures in Moody Bible Institute at Raike's hall this week, is an Englishman and his home is in London. He is superintendent of city missions in the great metropolis and assisted Dr. G. Campbell Morgan in Westminster Bible college. He came across the water thirty days ago to lecture before the students of the Moody Institute at Chicago and has stopped at Winona on his return trip. His book, "The Romance of Bible Chronology," has attracted wide attention among Bible students. He is accompanied by Mrs. Anstey, and they are stopping at the Winona hotel while here.

Dr. J. C. Breckenridge spent last Sunday at Rochester, Ind., where he occupied the pulpit of the First Presbyterian church.

Rev. George E. Guille, who is one of the teachers in the Bible school at Raikes hall, left for Eriesido, O., last Monday to lecture before a conference held at that place. He will fill a lecture engagement at Franklin, Ind., after which he will return to Winona for the remainder of the season.

The Rogers Winona band arrived at the park Monday evening. George V. Roscoe, the director of the band, says he hopes to satisfy the people of Winona in the concerts that will be given by his band and orchestra this season. Among his players is Hayden Sheperd, who has traveled all over the northern states as the greatest boy cornetist in the country. His superb playing interests people everywhere and Mr. Roscoe says he will spring many surprises on his audiences here. Mr. Sheperd plays the cello in the Rogers orchestra and his performances on this instrument are no less astonishing than with the cornet. He is eighteen years old. Another conspicuous character in this musical organization is George W. Curtis, a baritone of unusual accomplishments. He has played with the famous Sousa band and also the Innes band. He is a strong spirit of the organization that has come to Winona.

Miss Ella E. Pohle will be the lecturer at the 8:30 morning hour at Raikes hall this week. Her theme will be "Dispensational Bible Study."

Mrs. Lucretia Albertson, of Wolcott, N. Y., arrived at Winona yesterday and will occupy her cottage, the Van Ness.

A special feature of music will be introduced at the mid-week service at Raikes hall Thursday evening at 7 o'clock. Master Roy Stevens, of Fort Wayne, the boy soprano, will sing a solo. He is eleven years old and is possessed of peculiar sweetness and musical quality.

Miss Ruby Miner, a teacher in the primary department at Muncie, has organized a children's story-telling hour. Meetings are held at 11 o'clock every day at Science hall, and a general invitation is extended to the children of the park to attend. Miss Miner is stopping at the Elkhart and will be glad to meet any persons who are interested in the special work she represents.

TO BANISH WRINKLES AND FRESHEN UP QUICKLY

After a strenuous day outdoors, when winds, heat and exhaustion have combined to take away one's freshness and caused the skin to wrinkle and sag—or after a tedious or fretful day indoors—one often has urgent need for some quick rejuvenator. Maybe there's a tango party on for the evening, or some other social event. How in the world can one make herself presentable, looking as she does? It's quite easy.

Just get an ounce of powdered saxolite and a half pint witch hazel at the nearest drug store, mix the two and bathe the face in the solution for two or three minutes. Then look into your mirror and behold the wonderful transformation! Wrinkles have vanished, loose, tired muscles have been rested and "firmed up," marks of fatigue have flown, and you look so much brighter and younger you can hardly believe your eyes. No one need hesitate to try this, the witch hazel and saxolite being so perfectly harmless.

Woman's Duty to Herself.

Every woman owes it to herself to keep in good health. No one can reasonably be expected to maintain a cheerful disposition when half sick. Indigestion and constipation are two of the most common ills to which women are subject and fortunately are easily cured. Mrs. H. C. Getty, Indiana, Pa., writes, "Last summer I was advised by a friend to try Chamberlain's Tablets for indigestion and constipation. This medicine not only cured me of these disorders but toned up my whole system so that my health has been better than for years since taking them." For sale by all dealers.

August Bowser Makes Proposition to That City.

According to the Kendallville paper, representatives of August Bowser have made a proposition to establish a factory in that city for the manufacture of oil supply tanks and other products on which Mr. Bowser has patents. The proposition submitted by Mr. Bowser, according to the Kendallville News, is that the citizens of that city subscribe for $25,000 worth of stock and donate three acres of ground. The company is to be capitalized at $100,000, the Bowser people to have $51,000 of the stock. The company will pay the stockholders 10 per cent. for five years and Mr. Bowser will not ask for dividends during the first five years, nor for any salary, other than commission from the sale of the tanks. The company also agrees to select four of the seven directors from the Kendallville stockholders as well as the vice-president, assistant secretary, treasurer and two or three members of the executive board. The company also agrees to employe twenty-five men in the start. An investigating committee is coming to Fort Wayne this week to inspect the products of the company and the patterns of the patents.

SOLDIERS GOING WEST.

Special Train Over the Wabash Carrying Big Party.

A special train, running as the second section of the Wabash Continental limited, passed through Fort Wayne at 3 o'clock this afternoon, carrying a regiment of United States infantry. The soldiers came from one of the eastern barricks and are bound for Kansas City. They were turned over to the Wabash by the Lake Shore at Toledo.

DEMAND FOR STEAM DREDGES.

Evidently the financial or business depression that is supposed to be in existence at present does not affect the manufacture of dredges, for the American Steel Dredge company has more work than it can handle and has placed some of the work with other establishments. The Western Gas Construction company is building two large steel boats for the Dredge company, while the latter works are running the largest force in their history over time. Most of the orders for dredges came from the south, where an unusual number of improvements are in progress this summer. The company is about to place on the market a new type of revolving steam shovel, similar in some respects to the shovel now being used in excavation work at the new theater on Clinton street. Secretary J. D. Rauch, of the American Steel Dredge company, left today for the east in the interest of the company. Assistant Secretary Paul J. Knothe has just returned from a similar trip through the southern states.

WAS A PROFITABLE DEAL.

The treasury of the Mutual Benefit association of the Fort Wayne Electric works was enriched in the sum of $319.86 by the excursion to Cedar Point last Saturday. This is over $200 less than the excursion to that point a year ago yielded, but the conditions are vastly different in the shops and elsewhere among the people who patronize excursions and the men whose energy and push made the recent excursion what it was are satisfied. It has been said that no other parties could work up so big a crowd for an outing from Fort Wayne these dull times, and the men back of the recent excursion are receiving praise from all sides.

TO EXTERMINATE RATS.

Col. J. M. Arnold, general agent for the C., H. & D. road at Cincinnati for thirty years, now retired, has been appointed official rat killer and now travels from city to city on the road inoculating the rodents with a Pasteur virus which is deadly to rats, but harmless to other animals. "When one rat has been caught and given the virus treatment," Colonel Arnold explains, "we allow him to escape. The virus takes the form of a fatal and extremely contagious disease and soon all the rats in the neighborhood are infected and die."

SEPTEMBER 17 NICKEL PLATE DAY.

Thursday, September 17, will be Nickel Plate day at the Fort Wayne fair and District Passenger Agent E. P. Parmum this morning was advised that two special trains would be operated from the west on that date. One will have eight coaches and a baggage car, will start from Hammond and arrive here at 10:40 o'clock. The other will have twelve coaches and a baggage car, will start from Knox and arrive here at 8:55 o'clock in the morning. Last year similar trains brought in over 1,000 people.

SLIGHT IMPROVEMENT IN BUSINESS.

The Barney and Smith car shops at Dayton, Ohio, which have been running short hours and with reduced forces, are receiving some orders for cars and have been asked to make an estimate upon others, included being 1,000 box cars for the Cincinnati, Hamilton and Dayton road, now in the hands of receivers. The company this week booked an order for 500 cars, which will cost $500,000, from the New York Central company.

NEW TERMINAL AT CLEVELAND.

The Nickel Plate has in contemplation the building of new freight terminals at Cleveland that will give that line the only down town freight yards on the city level. All the freight depots in the down town section are now on a level with the Cuyahoga river and freight must be hauled up the hills at a great cost. The Nickel Plate's plan will give the business houses and commission houses a railroad right at their back door, particularly on Broadway and Woodland streets. The property necessary for this improvement will cost $400,000 and the buildings $100,000.

TAKING ANNUAL VACATION.

Assistant Tranmaster Ed M. Reese, of the Pennsylvania, accompanied by Mrs. Reese and their two children, left this morning for St. Joseph and Benton Harbor, where they will spend two weeks. Mr. Reese is taking his annual vacation.

WAS BADLY SUNBURNED.

Neal Dailey, an apprentice at the Pennsylvania machine shop, was able to report for duty this morning. While at Rome City a week or so ago, he had one of his arms badly sunburned and the wound became infected from ivy, and swelled to three times its normal size. All danger from further trouble has passed, though the arm is still sire.

WILL ENTERTAIN HIS FRIENDS.

Herman Schlink is preparing for a blow-out in celebration of his wedding, the event to take place Sunday, August 6. The guests will be the associates of Mr. Schlink at the Wabash pipe shop, where he is employed and where he reported for duty this morning. He was married at Hillsdale a few days ago.

George Jautz, who has been sick for five weeks, is making slow progress towards recovery, and it will be some days before he is able to report for work. Mr. Jautz is a pipefitter at the Wabash shops.

Earle Smith, G. R. & I. engineer, is still in a bad way physically, and is unable to walk. He is improving, however, and hopes to be restored to health soon. Mr. Smith has not been able to work for two months.

Because their train was stalled on a street crossing during a terrific rain storm at Huntington last Friday, an Erie train crew was arrested on complaint filed by a half dozen men who were thoroughly soaked while waiting to cross the tracks. The cases came before Judge A. J. Rosebrough, who decided for the defendants, alleging that the blocking of the street was an accident to the air brakes for which the crew was not responsible.

To All Old Ladies.

They say that old folks love to live
in days long passed away,
And find their sweetest comfort in some
misty yesterday;
But somehow I don't recollect a lot of
previous things
Since all the youngsters went away and
Mary's soul took wings.
It seems when I get thinking, that the past is like a lane
Of brown, old lilac bushes that can never bloom again;
Or like some old, deserted church
where once I heard a song—
Life seems so different, somehow, when you're lingering along."
I'm blessed with every comfort that a
lonesome soul could know,
And children grown to manhood that
would hate to see me go;
They put me on a sort of throne and
treat me like a queen
And all the hardships of old age the children try to screen.
But young friends are not old friends,
and the friends I used to know
Are sleeping 'neath the blossoms or the softly falling snow.
I want to leave the youngsters to their
roses and their song,
Life seems so different, somehow, when you're lingering along."

CHARGES PAYMENT TO PREMIER

Graft Allegation Comes Up in Royal Commission Inquiry.

St. John, N. B., July 29.—An alleged payment of $9,000 to Provincial Premier Flemming was described by John Kennedy, of Woodstock, a railway contractor, at the resumption by a royal commission today of the charges of extortion in connection with the building of the St. John Valley railway.

"You have a right to help us out with some money," said Flemming, according to the witness, who added that the following day he drew $2,000 from the bank and handed it personally to the premier, who had called at his office. Kennedy said that he understood the payment was for campaign purposes. Premier Flemming is conservative leader in New Brunswick.

THE MARKETS

WHEAT PRICES GO UP.

War Scare Is Direct Cause of the Raise Says Dealer In the Grain.

Wheat prices took a jump of seven cents in the last two days and dealers today are paying 82 cents for the grain. Upon being asked as to the cause a dealer said that the only cause he knew of was the war scare in the old country. The prices in this country he said were lower than they were the first of the week but the prices had gone up across the ocean.

Poultries are going lower every day and the home grown ones are retailing at 80 to 90 cents a bushel and imported ones are bringing $1.00, which is a very moderate price for this time of the year. The egg market is very dull but prices were a trifle lower Wednesday morning than they were Tuesday. The quality is still poor and commission men are complaining of the great amount of spoiled ones.

The city scale master reports a total of 31 loads of hay and grain weighed at the scales Wednesday morning. No old hay has been on market for the past week but there is a good supply of new hay which is bringing the farmer $11.00 to $14.00 a ton.

CHICAGO GRAIN AND PROVISIONS.

Chicago, July 25. Brakes were clamped down hard today on the wheat market as a result of commission houses demanding almost prohibitive margins on all trades. The consequent restriction of business naturally put the bulk of trade into the hands of dealers inclined to conservative views and there was a decided reaction from yesterday's violent advance.

Country holders freely accepted bids from here for wheat and this fact led to a stoppage of export demand and caused prices to fall. The opening was 7c to 2c down and was followed by numerous rallies, but none more than half completed and not any of a lasting sort.

The close was weak at 2c to 1c down as compared with last night.

Corn showed some firmness at the outset but soon followed wheat down grade. After opening 1c off to 1c up, the market dropped to about a cent under last night and displayed but little power to recover.

The close was steady at the same as last night to ⅛c off.

Oats, like corn, developed comparative strength at first but the collapse of wheat checked buying. The result was a set back though not so pronounced as in corn.

Weakness effected provisions when grain failed to advance. Moderate upturns were quickly more than wiped out.

THE DAY ON WALL STREET.

New York, July 29.—Tense excitement and wild trading attended the early tradings on the stock exchange today. Advices from abroad were again of an alarming character with heavy losses in such American stocks as were quoted by the London stock exchange. Initial losses here ran from 3 to 5 points in many of the better known securities, including Great Northern, Reading, Amalgamated Copper, Utah Copper, Anaconda, St. Paul Consolidated Gas and Soo. Canadian Pacific, the weakest of the high grade issues recently opened at an advance. Steel, which was traded in in lots of 2,000 to 5,000 shares, opened with a decline of 1¾. A rally of 1 to 2 points ensued under the lead of Union Pacific, Southern Pacific and St. Paul. The output of stock was so large that no bond transactions were recorded in the first 30 minutes.

An early rally followed the early demoralization, some stocks, notably Southern Pacific, selling above yesterday's close. The movement had all indications of substantial banking support together with extensive investment purchases by so-called bargain hunters. Canadian Pacific's gain of 4¾ points was ascribed to direct buying by Berlin, where conditions were much improved. At the end of the first hour in which trading assumed the enormous total of 340,000 shares, over a score of issues had registered complete recovery.

The rally of the first half hour gained greater headway, leading stocks effacing all losses with a number of material gains. Canadian Pacific rose almost five points with recoveries of 2 to 4 points in Reading, Great Northern, Union Pacific, Southern Pacific, Northern Pacific, Amalgamated and Smelting. Absence of further gold exports also contributed to the improved tone. The most wholesome feature of the local situation was the evidence of investment purchases on a scale not witnessed here in several years. Bonds were weak.

Speculation became almost buoyant in the closing hour. Early losses of 2 to 5 points were converted into gains of similar proportions. Profit taking caused some shading from the top level toward the end.

From a feverish and much lower opening, today's market changed its course in short order to one of active strength and many net gains due to extensive buying by investors. The closing was strong.

NEW YORK TO BE DOGLESS CITY.

New Rule Will Drive Canines From Metropolis Eventually.

New York, July 29.—Because of the large number of cases of rabies reported in the past few weeks, the department of health today announced adoption of an amendment to the sanitary code, providing that unmuzzled dogs shall not be permitted on any public highway or in any public park or place in the city at any time of the year. Under the old rulings of the department it was unlawful to have dogs on the streets or in public places without a muzzle or lesh in the months of June, July, August and September. Officials of the health department expressed the opinion that under the new rules New York would eventually become a dogless city.

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

Officer Collins Breaks His Hand on Ed Siekmeier's Countenance.

Ed Siekmeier, proprietor of the Bismarck saloon, 1030 Calhoun street, was arraigned in the city Wednesday morning on a charge of disorderly conduct and exhibited a countenance that looked war-worn. Night Patrolman Collins testified against Siekmeier and he displayed a right hand in splints and bandages. The conclusion that Siekmeier's countenance and Collins' hand had had recent and somewhat violent intimacies was not difficult to reach, for the logic of appearances was strong and the results obvious. Moreover, Collins admitted his part in it and Siekmeier said it was all too true. The nature of the proceedings and the manner of war were subjects of a divided account of the incident. Collins said he found the hall door of Siekmeier's saloon open and walked down to the saloonist's residence on Harrison street, between Berry and Wayne and notified him. He says Siekmeier turned in and abused him roundly, whereat he used his fist in giving the liquor dealer a right trouncing. Siekmeier says Collins used a "blackjack" on him and later used his fist, all without provocation and solely because of a grudge growing out of alleged delinquencies of the officer. Siekmeier's attorney put the officer through a redhot grilling on cross-examination. Judge Kerr took the case under advisement until Thursday morning. Siekmeier was arrested a few weeks ago on a charge of malicious trespass for throwing a brick through a window at the home of his brother on East Jefferson street. He later paid a fine on pleading guilty to a drunk charge.

Other City Court Cases.

George Brown and Tom Conners, two men arrested at pawnshop on East Main street, where they were trying to secure money on a valuable gold watch, were sent to jail in default of $50 bond to await hearing on August 1 on vagrancy charges. Their stories as told to Detective Sergeant William F. Pappert and later to the court did not match well. They will be investigated. Conners has been in Fort Wayne heretofore.

Stanley Shubinski and Adam Wasski, two Polish laborers, were continued until August 5 on charges of disorderly conduct. They had a fight at the corner of Wallace street and Wessler Park avenue.

Owen Morney, drunk, said when arrested that he was sick and that moreover he had been robbed of $25. He was continued until Thursday and sent to jail in default of bond. Adam Werner and Abe Hyrontz, two loiterers picked up at Nickel Plate tracks and Jackson street, where Morney was found, were suspected of possible connection with Morney's experience with robbers, but a hearing exculpated them and they were turned loose.

LeRoy Ward, charged with horse-stealing, was allowed to go, the state moving dismissal of the charge.

The case against George Beck, charged with neglecting a child, was also dismissed by the prosecutor.

Frank Runion, a drunk, was given eleven days. He said he had been sick and an overdose of booze had put him down and out.

KEPT THEM ALL GUESSING.

But "Uncle Ike" Stephenson Will Not Again Be Candidate.

Marinette, Wis., July 29.—Definite announcement was made today by United States Senator Isaac Stephenson that he would not be a candidate for re-election.

"There seemed to be no reason," he said, "for any earlier announcement that I would not again be a candidate, otherwise I should have announced it long ago. I have just kept them all guessing. Not even members of my own family knew."

Mother's bread is going out of date. Mother herself, thank goodness, never will be out of date, but the over-worked, fagged-out mother is being relieved of some of her hard work in the hot kitchen and given more time for her own comfort by buying Geller's sanitary baked goods made with up-to-date machinery in a scientific manner. 29-31

Acquittal of Mme. Caillaux is Followed by Wild Demonstration.

Paris, July 29.—Mme. Henriette Caillaux was last night acquitted by a jury in the Court of Assize of the wilful murder on March 16 last of Gaston Chalmette, editor of the Figaro.

The verdict was returned after fifty minutes' deliberation. The announcement was followed by the wildest tumult.

Mme Caillaux staggered and then threw her arms about the neck of her counsel, Fernand Labori. Her hair was undone, falling over her shoulders, and her hat dropped to the floor. The spectators stood upon desks and chairs. "Caillaux! Labori!" and cries of "Caillaux! Assassin!" merged into one.

The din was deafening. Several groups of barristers came to blows and the republican guards, in an endeavor to separate them, joined in the melee. The spectacle of Labori and Chenu, the latter counsel for the Calmette family, embracing each other calmed the tumult for a moment, but it was redoubled when they left with Mme. Caillaux.

Failing to make himself heard, the presiding judge, followed by the other judges, marched out of the room. The advocates took complete possession of the court; some of them mounted the judges' desks and harangued the crowd. The guards then cleared a portion of the room and comparative quiet was restored. Judge Albanel then returned and read the judgment, ordering the release of Mme. Caillaux.

Shaken with emotion, Mme. Caillaux left by the witnesses' door, the guards making a lane through the crowd.

She covered her face with her hands, as if to shield herself from the furious cries of "Murderess." By way of a number of narrow corridors and back staircases she reached a small side door in the palace of justice, where an automobile was waiting, and drove off unobserved.

M. Caillaux left by the main entrance on the arm of his devoted friend, Deputy Spectacle of Labori and Chenu, the latand hoots.

Thus ended the most sensational trial with which Parisian courts have had to deal in years. Each day provided its dramatic thrill, and, though the verdict has been pronounced, the outcome can not be foretold.

Cannon Seeks Return to Congress From Danville District.

Danville, Ill., July 29.—Joseph G. Cannon, former speaker of the national house, made formal announcement here today of his candidacy for representative from the Eighteenth congressional district. His announcement reads in part: "I had not sought the nomination and so told the committee, but after consultation I agreed to become a candidate, subject to the primary election to be held on the 9th day of September. I therefore formally announce my candidacy. If nominated I will make a vigorous campaign for my election. If another republican shall be chosen I will make a vigorous campaign for his election."

Police Dog Latest Fad in New York

Mrs. R Ware

New York, July 28.—It's not that society women have lost confidence in the police force, but big, ugly dogs have become fashionable, and that's why almost every fashionable woman who promenades 5th avenue these days is guarded by a "police dog."

Mrs. Richard Ware, who has just returned from Europe, brought with her as one of many trophies of travel a big, savage-looking Belgian "police dog." It's a bold highwayman that will attempt to molest Mrs. Ware when Prinz is on police duty.

COAL CAUGHT ON FIRE.

Two Engine Companies Respond to Alarm at Noon.

The motor chemical and engine companies 3 and 5 of the city fire department responded to an alarm sent in at 11:15 o'clock calling them to the barn at the rear of 433 Brackenridge street, where a bin of coal caught fire in some manner and sent out dense clouds of smoke. The fire was quickly extinguished without much damage to the property.

MAIL ORDER BUYERS.

A Furniture Manufacturer at the Exposition last week said: "For many years we have been playing the quantity game, making furniture of the class the Mail Order Houses use — furniture which looked any old how, and which was guarnteed to hold together at least until it was shipped and reached its destination, but we have stopped it and are hereafter going to make 'real furniture.'"
